Steel Talks Called

Both Sides Are Summoned Next Week

Washington (UPI)—Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan Wednesday summoned steel union and management officials to mediation conferences in Washington early next week in hopes of settling their long contract dispute.

The conferences, which probably will start Tuesday, will be the government's first formal efforts to reopen negotiations since the 500,000 steelworkers returned to work Nov. 7 under a Taft-Hartley injunction that ended their 116-day strike.

Finnegan and Dr. George W. Taylor, chairman of President Eisenhower's steel fact-finding board, said they hoped the talks would produce a settlement of the dispute. The union has threatened a new strike after the injunction expires Jan. 26.

THEY WILL BE NOTIFIED

Finnegan said he would get in touch with both sides to notify them of a specific time for the talks. He also will decide later whether to hold joint meetings or to meet separately with union and management negotiators.

Announcement of the conferences came after a two-hour meeting between top government labor officials, including Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, Finnegan, Taylor and their aides. Mitchell later met with Vice President Nixon.

Nixon will be the top government official in Washington after President Eisenhower leaves Dec. 3 on his Asian-African-European tour.

No Hearings Planned

Mitchell brought Nixon up to date on steel developments. Their conference, arranged several days ago, dealt with the vice president's work as chairman of the President's committee on price stability.

Taylor said his fact-finding panel had no immediate plans to conduct hearings on the steel dispute. But he said it would keep in close touch with the negotiation conferences conducted by the Mediation Board.

Asked if the fact-finders would hold public hearings before they must report to the President next month, Taylor said he hoped the dispute would be settled before then. Finnegan chimed in: "I hope you get your hope."

Under the Taft-Hartley Law, the fact-finding board must report to the President by Jan. 6 if the dispute has not been settled by then. After that the National Labor Relations Board conducts an election among the workers to see if they want to accept the companies' last offer.

If the workers reject the offer, the President must ask the courts by Jan. 26 to set aside the anti-strike injunction.

Fires Sweep Texas Brush

Texarkana, Tex. (AP)—Grass and brush fires fanned over thousands of acres in east Texas, levelled two score homes and crackled menacingly into the edges of some towns Wednesday.

Spread by south winds gusting up to 35 mph, the wild flames inflicted losses aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars. Surprisingly, the only death reported was that of a woman who suffered a heart attack fighting one of the blazes.

Thanksgiving—Count Your Blessings

THANKSGIVING — a time to moderate worry over pending and present problems with consideration of the good things in life.

Everyone remembers and rejoices in the personal achievements and happiness of the past year: the new home, the health and prosperity of his family, and other joys of day-to-day happenings.

Few citizens neglect to include in their consideration the general causes for their thankfulness which they hold in common with the rest of the world: peace, prosperity, progress, plenty.

Sometimes taken for granted, but among our richest blessings, are the schools our children attend and the fine churches in which we can worship.

But perhaps a less heralded cause for prayer and praise on Thanksgiving Day are the events of the past year which have benefited Lincolnites and residents of Nebraska, that might be included in words of thanks said over the Thanksgiving turkey or at special church and synagogue services.

—Prosperity — a general factor — has special meanings for Nebraskans and Lincolnites. The unemployment figures are remarkably low and retail sales reports show healthy advances of business in most fields.

—Weatherwise, almost everyone in the state should be thankful for a relatively cool summer, a relatively tornado-free year with an abundance of rain.

—For farmers and consumers alike, the record corn crop and the abundant harvests in general merit thanks.

—You sports fans may reflect on the Oklahoma-Nebraska game score, 25-21 Nebraska.

—Lincoln motorists can count among their blessings the resurfacing of many arterial streets and the nearing completion of the Capital Parkway diagonal.

—For travelers, there is the inauguration of improved trunkline air service.

—For hunters, the improved takes during almost every bird and animal season.

—For Lincoln Air Force personnel, and all Nebraskans, the job of winning the trophy as "SAC's Best" in the bombing-navigation-refueling competition.

—For senior citizens, the year held out concrete plans for proposed apartment-building housing in Lincoln.

—For visitors and natives, the splendor of the Capitol lighted at night.

—The kaliedoscope of entertainment offered during the year at Pershing Auditorium, plus the more comfortable seats.

—And last, but far from least in importance, the success and pleasure gained from the Centennial celebration in Lincoln.

Tempers Rise In New Delhi

Nehru Draws Angry Criticism For 'Weak-Kneed' Border Policy

New Delhi (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told an angry, shouting session of parliament Wednesday that India will try to prevent war with Red China but if necessary "we shall fight."

Nehru came under attack from rightist, socialist and independents who want a tougher policy toward Red China in the border dispute. They accused him of being weak-kneed and intolerant of criticism.

Nehru opened a two-day debate on the border situation with an appeal for calm consideration of foreign policy principles.

Then he turned to caustic criticism of non-communist opposition members in parliament's lower house, saying they were attacking the national defense program for partisan reasons.

Tempers Rise

Amid rising shouts, the opposition replied Nehru was not making proper provision for defense against the Chinese. The angry prime minister shouted back.

After several minutes of shouting that veteran members of parliament called unprecedented, order was restored and Nehru apologized.

Then Nehru lashed out at Indian communists for demonstrations in support of Red China, touching off a new uproar. This time the non-communist opposition supported the prime minister. Nehru hinted that Indian communists might be banned if they continued actions against the national interests.

Reds Draw Abuse

"Shame, shame," members of the house shouted at two dozen silent communists as Nehru declared he had been "amazed and ashamed" at recent communist demonstrations in Calcutta backing Red China.

Nehru declared there was nothing wrong with India's defense and that Indian forces were in the best shape since independence.

Masani, the independent, said Nehru should give Peiping an ultimatum to withdraw within two weeks from territory India claims.

Quoting Mao Tze-tung of Red China as having said that "power grows out of the barrel of a gun," Masani declared "the Chinese gun has come across the Himalayas with the objective of the conquest of India."

The debate will end Thursday with Nehru expected to be the last speaker.

CHILLY HOLIDAY ON TAP, SAYS WEATHER CHAP

A chill and uncheery holiday weatherwise is forecast for Nebraskans Thanksgiving Day.

Predictions call for colder temperatures shrouded by cloudy skies over most of the state. Occasional light snow is expected in the extreme east with strong winds forecast for the south.

Highs Thursday in the 30s are predicted.

Wednesday, western Nebraska recorded 50-degree readings. Highs of 58 were recorded at Imperial and Sidney. Lincoln's high was 46, the low 30.

Priority Method Studied

. . . City Projects

By Virgil Falloon

The City-County Planning Commission suggested Wednesday that the charter-created capital improvement program provides a procedure for determining the priority of proposed city projects.

Chairman E. J. Faulkner said the commisison would request an informal meeting with the City Council on Dec. 16 to discuss the matter.

Prompting the action were possible bond issues for city parks, a new library, a city-county building, and a potential vote on the Salt-Wahoo watershed district and the county's geriatrics hospital unit.

Both governmental officials and civic leaders have expressed concern for the success of the various projects unless some priority system can be set up.

5 Year Setup

The city's capital improvement program, adopted by 1958 charter amendment, provides for planning and finance programming for the current year and the subsequent 5 years of all capital improvements and land acquisition. Finance programming include both tax levy and bond issues.

Meanwhile, Mayor Pat Boyles has proposed that the council get together with key representatives of the boards concerned with the various projects to see if an agreement can be reached on a priority system.

Other action:

—The commisison recommended denial of a zoning change and special permit for the enlargement of trailer court at 4200 Cornhusker Hwy. Frank Workman had proposed expansion of the court to 110 units from its present 10 units.

The commisison approved:

—vacation of K from 39th to 40th.

—Vacation of a portion of the east-west alley between 7th and 8th, P to Q.

—Preliminary replat of Happy Hollow Addition, between 54th and 56th, Vine and S, subject to the city engineer's approval of storm drainage requirements.

—Proposed sale of a small piece of city owned property at 24th and Randolph.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES SET

Union Thanksgiving services, sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Churches, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the following churches:

Eastridge Presbyterian Church, 56th and C, the Rev. Fred Register, executive minister of the Congregational Conference, will speak on "Forget Not All His Benefits."

First Methodist Church, 50th & St. Paul, with Dr. William B. Gould, director of Wesley Foundation at the University of Nebraska, who will speak on "Christ In Our Thanksgiving."

It Can Happen To ANYBODY

Confused? Nope.

We figured it out almost immediately.

We did scurry to the dictionary, however, just to make sure Webster hadn't heard of "pedestrains" either. He hadn't.

The sign, placed near Hartley School at 34th and Vine, was intended to warn motorists of pedestrians, principally school children, crossing the street.

The irony of it all. A misspelled school sign!

Police and Parent-Teachers Assn. officials are shaking their heads in disbelief.

The signs will be replaced by new ones. And pedestrian will be spelled pedestrian and not pedestrain this time, hopes Lt. Melvin Dorn of the Lincoln Police Dept.

Big Atlas-Able Soars Skyward

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (UPI)—An Atlas-Able rocket blasted into the sky early Thursday with a 375-pound satellite destined for orbit around the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in Washington 30 minutes after the firing that the radio in the rocket's second stage had not begun broadcasting.

An NASA statement said the "telemetry of the second stage is out, and it will be some time before we can give you more word on the progress of this shot."

The trip is expected to take approximately 62 hours.

If successful, the satellite will record the first Free World pictures of the far side of the moon.

The massive missile, largest and most powerful ever built in the United States, sought to accomplish a feat as difficult as hitting a fly in the eye with a .22 calibre rifle at a distance of 6 miles.

The bottle-shaped rocket laid down a trail of flame on its launching pad as it inched into the black heavens.

The 98-foot tall behemoth carried a payload aloft in an apparently perfect launch.

The overall satellite payload weight included 55.6 pounds of structure and shell, 194.8 pound propulsion system and 121.2 pound of experiments, electronics and power supply.

If all goes well, a unique guidance system controlled from earth will navigate the spectacular colored satellite to orbit around the moon in about 62 hours.

The 4-stage rocket thundered from its pad with a tremendous roar under 360,000 pounds of thrust from its Atlas booster engine.

Three minutes after launch, after the rocket had curved to the east, it was but a vague blur high in the sky.

It appeared to be going successfully as much as 5 minutes after launch.

This marks America's sixth attempt to either orbit or hit the moon. Five previous shots have failed, although Pioneer IV, after seeking unsuccessfully to probe the moon, curved into orbit around the sun.

The massive Atlas booster fired for 4½ minutes before falling away to allow the highly-reliable second, "Able" stage to take over. Seconds before the booster fell away, a fiberglass nose covering the third stage and the payload separated from the rocket.

A prime objective of the rocket was to test a unique guidance system designed to increase the chances of the rocket's going into orbit. The fourth state was equipped with a start-restart engine by which the payload could be slowed down or speeded up to meet its destination with the moon.

Planning 'Crowds' Highway Finances

Cochran Says Contract Controls Make Nebraska Wait For Funds

The State Highway Department's planning is crowding finances to a "greater extent than any time since World War II," State Engineer R. L. Cochran said Wednesday.

He made the comment in connection with the advertising for bids Dec. 17 on projects which cannot be contracted until Jan. 1 when funds will become available.

Under the contract controls established by the federal government resulting from the decreased revenue in the Federal Highway Trust Fund, states may spend only a percentage of their allocations in each quarter of the fiscal year.

Total estimates on the Dec. 17 bid taking are $6,000,000 but the state has only about $1 million available at this time.

On Jan. 1 another $9 million will be available for the 3rd quarter (January, February and March) of this fiscal year. That represents 33% of the year's total funds.

Cochran said there will be additional bid lettings in late February and late March to use up the balance of these funds.

Another 34%, some $9 million, will be available the 4th quarter for contracting projects to round-out Nebraska's federal aid highway allocations for fiscal 1960.

"Despite the slow-up in controls, we will continue planning at the maximum rate, and continue taking bids at the maximum rate within the contract control periods," Cochran said.

"It's an unusual experience," the highway chief asserted. "We used to have lettings whenever the plans were prepared, but now we can't do that. We have to wait for awards until the funds are available."

(List of highway projects advertised for bids appears on Page 11.)

Road Crash At Burchard Kills Iowan

Lincoln Star Special

Burchard—Ercelle A. Fortney, 57, of Atlantic, Ia., was killed Wednesday afternoon when his station wagon collided at an intersection near here with a truck loaded with rock, according to the State Safety Patrol.

The crash occurred four and a half miles south of Burchard at the intersection of detour Highway 65 and a county road.

Fortney, believed to be traveling alone, was eastbound at the time of the crash. The truck, driven by Troy Andrews of Blue Springs, was northbound.

The death brings Nebraska's 1959 highway fatality toll to 304 as compared to 311 at this time last year.

Today's Chuckle

Isn't it odd how neighbors whom we seldom see all year write to wish we were with them when they get 500 miles away?

Department Scrimps Temporarily, But 'Not Out Of Money'

By Betty Person

The State Insurace Department has delayed some expenditures until after the first of the year because of a change in the way funds were appropriated by the last Legislature, but is "definitely not out of money," according to Insurance Director William E. Grubbs.

The 1959 Legislature reduced the department's reappropriation from its unexpended balance in one fund by $50,000, thus removing a "cushion" on which the agency could operate comfortably until various fees begin coming in in 1960.

The original budget bill called for re-appropriation of $75,000 from the unexpended balance of the department's insurance supervision fund out of which salaries, wages and maintenance, including the director's and office actuary's salaries, are paid.

Reduced to 25,000

The budget committee, however, reduced this re-appropriation to $25,000 and it was so carried in the final budget bill approved by the Legislature.

A comparison of the 1957-59, and 1959-61 budget bills for this fund (which is supported entirely by licenses, fees and other cash funds and in no way involves property taxes), shows the 1959 budget committee made a substantial increase in appropriation of new money to this account.

The 1957-59 budget for this fund called for re-appropriation of $75,000 and new appropriation of $128,500, for a total of $203,500. The 1959-61 budget called for the re-appropriation of $25,000 and new appropriation of $198,000, for a total of $223,000.

Some Worry

Grubbs said it "did cause me some consternation for a short time" when the fund's reserve appeared to be dwindling, but upon checking he learned that fees from several sources which go into the fund normally begin coming in right after the first of the year.

"We have stayed pretty far under our appropriation and delayed expenditures for some items until our balance is replenished," he said.

Explaining steps which could be taken to alleviate any problem which could arise if the cash balance had an insufficient correlation to the appropriation, Grubbs said he could "encourage insurance companies who pay later to pay sooner."

This would primarily involve agents' licenses which make up the bulk of the fund.

Under Nebraska law (statute 44-157), the payment of all fees and charges required for that department "shall be paid in the manner and within the time prescribed by the director of insurance, as approved by the tax commissioner."

Under a change in the billing system, recommended a month ago by State Auditor Ray C. Johnson, the department also is requiring payment for various services by the agency at the time they are requested, rather than billing them for a later date.

Onassis Marriage Goes On Rocks

WIFE ASKS A DIVORCE

. . Mystery 'J.R.' Named

New York (AP) — Another marriage foundered on legal shoals Wednesday in the wake of the pleasure cruising of Greek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis and opera singer Maria Callas.

His wife sued him for divorce.

Details of the suit, filed by Mrs. Athina (Tina) Mary Onassis, were not made public. The 29-year-old, English-born blonde said in a statement:

"His great wealth has not brought me happiness with him, nor, as the world knows, has it brought him happiness with me."

Adultery is the only grounds for divorce under New York state law.

Mrs. Onassis' suit, according to published reports, named as co-respondent a mysterious "J. R.," not further identified.

Others Separated

Miss Callas' husband, Italian industrialist Giovan Battista Meneghini, 62, shepherded her to stardom. They recently obtained a legal separation in Italy.

When he filed the separation suit last September, he reportedly charged she had fallen in love with another man.

This was about the time that the fiery Miss Calals, and multimilllionaire Onassis, 55, were cruising the Mediterranean in his yacht, and roaming the night clubs of coastal resort cities.

Both have denied any romance, and insisted they were just friends.

Mrs. Onassis, in the suit against her husband, asked custody of their two children, Alexander, 11, and Christina, 9. Her statement said she and Onassis married here 13 years ago.

Onassis, a Greek-born Argentinian who has amassed a fortune estimated at 500 million dollars, owns the second largest tanker fleet in the world.

Meneghini and Miss Callas married 10 years ago, while she was an overweight unknown.

Case Against Ex-Red Chief Thrown Out

New York (AP)—Earl Browder, one-time head of the Communist Party in America, has won dismissal of a 7-year-old perjury indictment.

"It took a long time for the government to admit that it did not have a case," he told newsmen afterward. "I am glad to have it over with after 7 years."

Browder, 68, who was expelled from his party in 1946 for advocating cooperation with capitalism, was indicted with his Russian-born wife, Raissa, in September, 1952.

They were accused of falsely denying she was a communist in her petition for citizenship. She died of cancer in 1955.

Best Witness Dead

Asking dismissal, Browder said his wife's death deprived him of his "best witness" by whom he could have establishied his innocence.

The government conceded it didn't have enough evidence now for a conviction. It said one witness has died and another, presumably ailing Louis Budenz, former editor of the Communist Daily Worker is unable to testify.

After U.S. Dist. Judge Edmund L. Palmeieri threw out the case, Browder chatted reflectively with newsmen. Puffing on a pipe, he said the Communist Party has "long been politically dead" in this country.

"It cut its roots in America," he said, adding that it has no chance of being revived.

Browder, who headed the party for 15 years before his expulsion, said he has "had no contact with anyone on good terms with the Communist Party" since then. He now represents Soviet publishing firms in this country.

Music news is covered thoroughly in the "Sunday Journal and Star."

Gauguin Brings Top Price

London (AP) — A painting by Paul Gauguin has sold at auction for $364,000.

It was a world record price for a Gauguin.

And a painting by Paul Cezanne brought $406,000.

Both paintings were knocked off to Raphael Rosenberg of the New York art firm of Rosenberg and Stiebel.

From Buffalo

The Gaugin belonged to George Goodyear, a television executive of Buffalo, N.Y. The Cezanne belonged to Goodyear's sister, Mrs. T. G. Kenefick, also of Buffalo.

The two pictures were outstanding in a sale of nearly 200 impressionistic and modern works at Sotheby's that brought $1,929,082—the third highest total in an art auction.

Tahita Work

The atmosphere was electric when Gauguin's "I Await The Letter" — a vivid scene of Tahiti painted 60 years ago —was lifted to the auction easel.

The opening bid was $280,000—only $11,200 short of the previous record for a Gauguin, paid in Paris in 1957.

The painting was knocked down in 30 seconds, and the crowd gasped at the speed of the sale.

Moon Shot Story

History of U.S. lunar probes:

Aug. 17, 1958—Air Force Thor-Able lunar probe blew up 77 seconds after launch, about 50,000 feet over Atlantic Ocean.

Oct. 11, 1958—Air Force's second Thor-Able moon probe, intended to circle moon and return to earth, climbed to 71,300 miles and plunged.

Nov. 8, 1958—Air Force's third try with Thor-Able reached 1,000 miles, then plunged when third stage failed to fire.

Dec. 5, 1958—Army's first try, with Juno rocket designed to hit lunar surface if possible, rose to 66,500 miles and fell back to earth when rocket failed to use all its fuel.

March 3, 1959—Army Juno 88 rocket sent 13.4-pound Pioneer IV satellite past moon and into orbit around sun.

Russian lunar probes:

Jan. 1, 1959—Lunik I, or "Mechta," 3,245-pound satellite sent on near-miss of moon and into orbit around sun.

Sept. 12, 1959—Lunik II, with 780 pounds of instruments and pennants bearing Russian coat of arms, made hard landing on moon.

Oct. 4, 1959—Lunik III, weighing about 614 pounds, launched into orbit around moon and earth, took first pictures of moon's other side.

'Curtis, Like Horseradish, Is Hard To Swallow,' Says Demo Hanson

"I doubt that Carl Curtis is 'as strong as horseradish' politically, but I do know that he is just as difficult to swallow," State Democratic Chairman Russell Hanson said Wednesday night.

Hanson, referring to statements made by GOP Chairman Charles Thone at a fund-raising dinner in Laurel, said:

"The Republicans have already started their whistling-by-the-cemetery act in their statements about a swing away from Congressmen Brock and McGinley.

"The 'swinging away' will be the manner in which the Democratic Party and the people of Nebraska wrest away the seats the GOP now holds.

Rigged Steers Booted

Chicago (AP) — Officals looking for a possible rigging disqualified 14 of 291 steers entered in the youth competition at the International Livestock Exposition.

Arlie Mucks of Madison, Wis., vice president of the exhibition's cattle show, said the disqualified animals showed very plain evidence of having been tampered with in the area of their flanks.

He said scar tissue and swelling indicated the animals had received injections of oil or parafin, or possibly air, under the hide to fill out depressed areas and improve the animals appearance.

Officials said it marked the first time in the 60-year history of the International that animals have been barred for unethical practices before the show started.

Nine-Day Show

The exhibition opens Friday for a 9 day run featured by the selection and sale of the grand champion steer. The winning animals in the junior show compete with the entries of adults for this honor in American agriculture's top competition.

Bishops Oppose Funds To Push Birth Control

Washington (UPI)—The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States served notice Wednesday they will fight any attempt to use U.S. foreign aid funds to promote "artificial birth prevention" programs in underdeveloped countries.

They said a systematic propaganda campaign is afoot to convince the U.S. public that widespread introduction of birth control measures is the only effective answer to population pressures in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

"United States Cathlics believe that the promotion of artificial birth prevention is a morally, humanly, psychologically and politically disastrous approach to the population problem," the bishops declared.

They said American Catholics therefore "will not support" any use of public funds to help establish programs of contraception, aboriton or sterilization in other countries.

The 1,516-word statement was adopted by the Catholic hierarchy at its annual closed meeting here last week, and was made public Wednesday by the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

It was a sharp Catholic reaction to several recent developments which have included the following:

1. In late July, a committee studying U.S. foreign aid programs recommended to President Eisenhower that "demographic information" be given to nations requesting it as a means of curbing rapid population growth.

2. In September, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public a report by the Stanford Research Center urging that the U.S. study the possibility of backing large-scale foreign tests of birth control devices.

3. A Protestant study group sponsored by the World Council of Churches said in October that a worldwide "population explosion" is causing grave social and economic problems in underdeveloped countries. It said "no acceptable solution seems to be in sight" without widespread introduction of birth control.

The Catholic bishops said it was "alarming" to see "some representatives of Christian bodies" endorsing artificial birth controls.

They said "some international and national figures" have gone so far as to suggest that artificial birth control "is gradually becoming acceptable even in the Catholic church."

"This is simply not ture," they asserted. The Catholic church, they said, is standing fast on its "perennial teaching" that the only "morally permissible" means of birth control is the so-called rhythm method based on periodic abstinence from sexual relations.

The bishops said Catholics are by no means indifferent to the problems created by rapid population growth in underdeveloped countries. But they said the morally right way to solve these problems is for wealthy countries like America to help the underdeveloped countries increase their food supply and raise their living standards.

Knight Files For Unicam 18th District

Banker Eyes Post Vacated By Liebers

George A. Knight, president of the Citizens State Bank of Lincoln, filed Wednesday as a candidate for the Nebraska Legislature from the 18th District.

His filing was the second this week for the post being vacated by Sen. Otto Liebers. Dr. James L. Sellers, retired University of Nebraska history professor, has filed for the seat.

A native Nebraskan, Knight was born on a farm in Butler County. He spent his childhood in Geneva, graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University in 1914, attended Northwestern University for one year, then came to Lincoln in 1915 when he entered the banking business.

The 67-year-old Lincoln businessman has served as a director of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Salt-Wahoo Watershed Association, and Lincoln YMCA. He also has served as president of the University Place School Board and University Place Businessmen's Association, and of the Lincoln YMCA for two years.

Honored For Service

Knight was a member of the Nebraska Wesleyan University board of trustees for 36 years, was president of the board for 4 years, has been honored for distinguished service to the school, and last year received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree.

He is now state chairman of the Nebraska Legislative Council of the American Bankers Association, and has served as a trustee of the Lancaster County Sanitary District since 1942.

Knight said he felt his experience in business and government "justifies me in the belief I may be of service in the Legislature."

He listed a program of creating a favorable climate for business and industry and providing young people with adequate educational facilities.

Knight said he is aware of the agricultural situation and believes every research effort should be made to deal with surplus.

Another interest cited calls for development of Nebraska's potential as a recreational area.

JANUARY DRAFT QUOTA SLICED

Washington (UPI) — The Army will draft 7,000 men in January, a cut of 2,000 from the December call.

The new levy will bring to 2,497,430 the number of men called up under the draft since the start of the Korean War in June, 1950.

The October, November and December calls were 9,000 each. The Army drafted 7,000 men in August and in September.

The Navy and Air Force depend on volunteers to meet their manpower needs.

Trade Talks Set

Damascus, Syria (AP) — The United Arab Republic has asked Lebanon, Jordan and Saudi Arabia to a 4-power conference here this week end to co-ordinate transit trade among them.

Brooks Asks Sec'y Benson To Renew Ft. Robinson Permit

Gov. Ralph Brooks entered the controversy over Fort Robinson Wednesday night and sent U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson a telegram requesting renewal of the State Game Commission's permit to use part of Fort Robinson.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture operates the historic fort in northwest Nebraska and other agencies may use the facility only on approval of the USDA.

The Game Commission's permit to operate park facilities at Fort Robinson is scheduled to expire Monday, and disagreement between the commission and the USDA thus far have prevented a renewal.

In his telegram to Benson, Brooks said:

"Public interest in the Fort Robinson Park facility merits renewal of use permit as originally agreed between Dr. (T. C.) Byerly and Terry McAdams of your agency and the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission.

"Refusal to renew use permits as originally agreed has aroused great public indignation and created demand for official protest by this office in the interest of preserving this park and recreational facility and historic shrine.

"Differences arising out of joint use can surely be resolved and Nebraskans will resist at every level the breach of faith inherent in any failure to renew operating agreement."

Copies of the governor's telegram were sent to each member of Nebraska's congressional delegation, members of the Legislative Council Committee on Outdoor Recreation, and to Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance.

Earlier Wednesday, Rep. Donald McGinley, Nebraska's 4th District congressman, urged USDA to extend the game commission permit for another 60 to 90 days "until a suitable arrangement can be worked out for joint use of the facility."

McGinley's letter was addressed to Dr. Byerly, regional director of USDA's research division.

Blast Jars Strike Talks

Buenos Aires, Brazil (AP)—A bomb exploded Wednesday night on the fifth floor of the finance Ministry building where Economic Minister Alvaro Alogaray was meeting with labor leaders who had threatened to call a general power strike.

The blast wrecked walls and fixtures, and flying glass and debris injured a few ministry employes. Alsogaray and the leaders of the Light and Power Workers Union about 30 yards away were not injured.

Later the union said it had postponed the strike for further wage negotiations with the government.

Atlanta (UPI) — Marvin Thomas Launius reported to police the loss of his wallet containing $4 in U.S. currency and 5 $1-million confederate bills.

Club Entertainer Fiske Dies At 67

New York (AP) — Dwight Fiske, who went to Paris as a youth to study classical music and returned to the United States to become one of America's best known night-club storyteller-pianists, has died at the age of 67.

He also wrote a book of satirical verse, "without Music," and a volume entitled "Why Should Penguins Fly? And Other Stories."

POPE JOHN JOKES ABOUT AGE

Vatican City (AP) — Pope John XXIII, celebrating his 78th birthday, jokingly told a general audience of 6,000 persons Wednesday that his was a "dangerously advanced" age.

Looking sturdy and fit, the pope rose early as usual and spent the day working. The only sign of a celebration was the flying of the Vatican's white and yellow banners over the 108-acre papal state.

In the late afternoon the pontiff received the general audience and mentioned his birthday.

"When you are 6 years old, you become 7," he said. "When you are 15, you become 16. Life goes on steadily.

"But we are already far along. When you become 60 to 70 you say this is much. At 76 to 77, it is very much. When you reach 78 you say this is dangerously advanced age. At 78, 79, 80 — you say poor me."

President, Nixon Discuss Ike's Trip

Thanksgiving Day

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It was a wholesome thing our forefathers did when they set aside one day in the year for the specific purpose of giving thanks for the many blessings which had come their way in the past 12 months. This affords us today not only an opportunity to show our gratitude but the time, as well, to contemplate on the fact that there are many reasons for feeling this way.

The observance of Thanksgiving has grown since the early days of the Pilgrims. Its scope has been broadened to include not only a bountiful harvest but all the things in life which give us comfort and satisfaction. Certainly, there can be no doubt of the harvest blessing which has been America's in this and recent past years. It has brought economic problems in its wake but it has made us a nation totally without fear of starvation in a world in which as many as one-third of the people lack sufficient food for a healthy life.

Full Harvest Bins

But giving thanks means more than merely being happy with the things we have. In fact, such a narrow reaction as this is not really thanks at all but more in the nature of pride. Pride is alright, too, but it should not set the tone of things at Thanksgiving. What Thanksgiving really implies is humility and generosity.

It implies a desire on the part of those who are fortunate to be of assistance and help to those whose life is a much harder struggle. This should not be too difficult a thing for us when we recall the circumstances under which this day has been celebrated in the past.

It has lived through times of famine as well as feast, through times of bloodshed and violence as well as peace and through poverty as well as prosperity. It was first celebrated in Nebraska in 1854 when the rolling prairies of this young territory were bristling with Indian violence and the westsurge of the nation. In those days the number one concern of most people was simply staying alive and keeping their family together.

For death and destruction threatened from every direction. If not from warring tribes, there was danger in the elements which might at any time wipe out the fields of grain or leave entire settlements in ruination. For there was little protection, then, from the violent storms and floods which swept from time to time across the land. Buildings were strong but crudely constructed. Transportation was all up to the individual and a blizzard left one completely dependent upon his own resources.

None of the streams were tamed in that day as they are today with improved channels, storage reservoirs, dikes, etc. For all the tremendous progress that has been made since then, we have more than sufficient cause to give our thanks. The turkey they shot for the Thanksgiving table in the 19th century is purchased today in the grocery store — all cleaned, even stuffed if you want it that way, and ready for the oven.

But there was thankfulness in the hearts of the pioneers merely for the opportunity that the land gave them to make their way in the world. And they found thanks for their very existence under a form of democratic government which permitted them to exploit the resources before them to the limits of their ability. They were thankful for the progress they had made as well as for the potential which was theirs to build a nation of free men.

This, it seems, is much the same position we find ourselves in today. Only a few of the circumstances have changed. There is progress to be looked back upon in our modern society and a terrific challenge ahead. But it is no longer a challenge confined to the region in which we live. It is no longer found in just our own community, state or even nation. We live today in a nation which has, by its own deeds, gained a position of world leadership. Ours is an example that millions beyond our shores turn to and our way of life is the hope of countless people now engaged in the widespread struggle against tyranny and oppression.

Reaching Up And Out

When we give thanks this Thursday, we should not be satisfied with a bountiful table and a successful life. We should go beyond this to see if we have fulfilled the responsibilities which merit us the things for which we are thankful. Have we been a constructive part of not just our own little world but the world of humanity all around us?

"Brother, You're Gonna Get Us All In The Garbage Can"

The Path Of A Reformer

Norman Thomas attained his 75th birthday the other day and both he and the nation had occasion to look back down the years in a survey of this unusual man's public career. It is surprising how much a meeting of minds the two had without ever acknowledging each other.

Thomas, Princeton educated for the ministry, a Republican turned Bull Mooser, turned Wilsonian Democrat, and finally a socialist, but always a moralist and humanitarian at heart, was six times a candidate for president and as many times virtually ignored by the American electorate. His largest vote was 900 thousand in 1932 when upward of 40 million votes were cast. He was no more successful seeking lesser public offices. Yet despite his wholesale political rejection many of the reforms he worked for came to pass.

Perhaps an accounting can be made of his poor political showing in examining his position of dissent. Politically it is a negative trait, an instrument that the electorate itself employs frequently, but seldom tolerates in a candidate. The latter is supposed to be a leader, and only incidentally a critic. It was a spirit of dissent also that restrained Thomas from any consistent attachment to a major political party, where the elective votes reside, and propelled him into the socialist party. America's inherent rejection of socialism makes it a special haven for those who prefer to moralize.

In such a position Thomas has been most effective in advocating reform, plying the public conscience, pleading the case of the American taste for ethics and uplift. His humanitarianism prevailed where his politics did not and he has lived to see his egalitarian dreams come true.

As a purifier and reformer of social understanding he has much at the age of 75 to comfort him, more than enough to reconcile him to his weakness as a political integer. America has been the better for him.

Not All Wheat In Surplus

The Department of Agriculture has revealed that the mounting surplus of wheat will be 1.4 billion bushels by the end of the current marketing season next June 30.

This estimate indicates 7 per cent more carry over than the year earlier.

But there are contradictions. There are different kinds of wheat serving specialized purposes and not all of them are in surplus. Indeed, by the end of next June there will be only a two months supply of soft red wheat which is used for cookies and cakes.

There will be 30 per cent less carryover of durum wheat which is essential to the manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti.

On the other hand the bulk of the surplus comes under the heading of bread wheat. But here again there are many strains, some of them less suitable for milling than others.

Wheat growers, themselves, have frequently pointed to the inadvisability of ignoring the desirability of varieties of wheat in the federal attempt to deal with the surplus problem in gross. They have also questioned the good of research programs aimed at getting larger yields of any kind of wheat anywhere wheat can be grown. They have argued for the discouragement of unadaptable production, generally by advocating premium prices for wanted varieties, or poor supports for the unwanted. They have consistently asserted that no real surplus problem exists in the wanted varieties.

Whether their thinking is narrow or wholesome their suggestions point to an unexplored area of farm production which could contribute to a new general concept of a farm program. And new concepts cannot come unless the planners venture into areas that have not been previously considered.

Crowding The Ballot

One of the most indefinite things at this time appears to be the number of issues which will appear on the ballot in the May, 1960, primary national election. For the local issues that will appear, this will be a special election as they are not a part of the state and national candidates who will be picked by the voters at that time to oppose one another in the later general election.

One thing seems to be unanimous—if the ballot is crowded with proposals for bond issues, the entire batch is likely to get the axe by the taxpayers. There is no certainty in this, of course, but history shows it to be a valid assumption. And there are few backers of any cause who would want anything other than their own project to be on the May ballot. They realize that competition in this way is generally disastrous.

The next consideration, then, is what can be done about it. Suggestions for this have covered a lot of ground, too, but the ultimate answer is still a long way off. It is ridiculous to expect the backers of various programs to get together and decide among themselves who gets a crack at voters in May and who must wait. Understandably, these various interests all think their own project is the most worthy and important and would not be likely to back down on this.

The only body which can settle the question of quantity on the May ballot is the City Council, assuming petition movements do not take this responsibility away from it. The Council is simply going to have to take a hard and cold look at whatever is presented to it and decide its merit and its chances with the voters. As of this date, the only program now being discussed which has both merit and much of a chance with voters is the proposed $3,250,000 park bond issue. Other talked-of programs—a new main library building and a combined city-county building—are either too far from the voters' hearts or lack sufficient merit for one reason or another.

Antarctic Accord Approaches Fact

WASHINGTON — The day after Thanksgiving the 12 countries concerned with the Antarctic will sign a historic treaty guaranteeing the peace of that vast area and providing for inspection to prevent atomic bomb explosions for military purposes.

One important point remains to be ironed out, but the treaty is almost certain to be signed anyway. Significantly Russia is the holdout, but it wants to go further than any other nation in preventing atomic bomb tests.

The other nations are all agreed to ban military A-bomb tests. But Soviet delegates want to go one better and ban even scientific atomic tests. The argument inside the secret meetings has been friendly but continued. At one point, Herman Phleger, U.S. delegate, was arguing with the Russians.

Aside from the disputed point the delegates are now agreed, and the treaty will be signed this week. Many diplomats regard this as a precedent for peace more far-reaching than any taken since the organization of the United Nations.

For, with the United States and Russia agreeing to the principle of inspection and to the banning of military atomic explosions, an important step has been taken toward applying the same system to other areas.

In the past Russia has hung back. However, driving from Des Moines to Coon Rapids, Iowa, Khrushchev informed corn farmer Roswell Garst that he was ready to accept inspection. He repeated this to Adlai Stevenson, later to Eisenhower at Camp David. Since then Russian delegates at the Geneva Atomic Conference have been most cooperative. U.S. delegates say there has been a complete rightabout-face.

This progress may be one of the greatest reasons for giving thanks which the American people have had since the Pilgrim fathers gave thanks for their first precarious year on the American continent.

Republican congressmen are having second thoughts about the rigged TV quizzes they have recorded with high government officials for political campaign purposes. They hope there'll be no backfire.

Both radio and television shows have been prepared by the Republican congressional committee in which the government big shots appear to be interviewed by individual congressmen. Actually there was no interview. The pat, political answers were recorded in advance.

Sen. Muskie's Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON — A tall young man with a rectangular jaw and tousled hair came up the cobbled country road 75 miles northwest of Warsaw and entered the tiny village of Jasionowka, Poland. This was a little more than a month ago, a moment he had long lived for.

Fifty-nine years before, a Polish immigrant settled in Rumford, Maine. He had the tongue-mangling name of Marcisczewski, and Rumford was a French settlement. It wasn't long before he changed his surname to a streamlined six-letter word.

The immigrant never had the opportunity to go back to Poland, to respond to the urging that every man is struck with in his later years —to return for a look at the place of his boyhood.

But now this tall young man was fulfilling his father's dream, and he came as any man's father would have wanted it — as an immigrant's son who had gained a stature of greatness in the land of democracy.

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine thus made his appearance in the little community of Jasionowka. The senator wrote to me about it. It was one of the most touching letters I have ever read.

Here are parts of it:

"We left the main road and were driving over a narrow, cobbled country road. As we topped a slight rise, there came into view in the distance a large white building, somewhat shabby, but clinging to the shreds of an ancient dignity which I instinctively felt must be the manor house of a nobleman's estate which my grandfather had managed at the turn of the century. And so it proved to be, now converted to a state farm.

"A short distance beyond, the pitiful unpainted weather beaten homes of the villages were clustered about a broad square, dominated by the stately white church which my father attended.

"My first object was to find some trace of my father's family. We proceeded to the local precidum and almost immediately located a friendly girl who recalled an old lady bearing the family name. She escorted us to a drab little house on one of the side streets. We knocked on the door and entered.

"In a dark little cubby hole of a kitchen I met the widow of my father's brother—tiny and stooped under the weight of almost 80 years. With her was my father's niece.

"They did not know of my father's death and accepted his silence over the past three years as just another of the burdens which filled their daily lives . . ."

At this point, Senator Muskie said, villagers swarmed in front of the house. The word of his arrival had been carried by the local grapevine.

"It is difficult to comprehend the economic circumstances of the people in that little village — the bareness of their lives. They have no meat. They stand in line for bread . . ."

The meaning of Thanksgiving is told in simple words.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: What could cause one to feel lonely, blue and nervous all the time? I can't sleep or eat. Is it bad for a lady to live alone? I am 65 and have been a widow nearly two years. — M.C.T."

Dr. Molner

Probably there is nothing that will do more to make you "lonely, blue and nervous" than living alone.

There is one important distinction to make, however. "Living alone" does not mean that no one else shares your house or apartment. It means letting yourself be cut off from life.

Many times it is true that, at your age (or more, or less) people are left alone. Their children are grown and perhaps have moved away. Old friends have moved. Death has taken some. It is the pattern of living — as we grow older, we must be prepared to lose at least some of those we love, those we have known for decades.

But it does NOT mean that we need be lonely!

Occasionally two widows, or two sisters, or two friends of many years, share the same house or the same apartment, but obviously this is not always possible.

Let's say, for the sake of discussion, that you must "live alone" from that standpoint. There is nothing wrong with it — so long as you do not seal yourself off from life. A canary, a cat, a dog, or other pet can be a lot of company around the house. Some people with green thumbs find a great deal of companionship in plants blooming in pots on a window sill, or some ivy trained to grow up along a curtain at the window.

But the important thing still must be people. Live alone if it works out that way, but don't live your life alone. Do things with other people. There are church groups and a variety of clubs. There are also informal groups devoted to some hobby whether it is making pottery, or studying or filling a civic need.

In the cities, there often are "golden age clubs," or "senior citizen centers" for people 65 and over.

In smaller towns you may not have such centers, but you do, instead, find it easier to organize your own informal groups. Use your imagination — maybe organizing a rummage sale to buy music for the school band will be helpful to the town, and at the same time provide a common goal for you and others.

At 65 you must have learned what it took some of us so long to learn when we were young? If we are lonely, and shy, and wish somebody would make friends with us, the truth is that others are feeling the same way, and wish WE would make the first move.

Instead of eating alone, invite one person (or several) to come for lunch. You don't need a special occasion. Just "come have lunch." Or play cards, or talk, or figure out a project.

The answer to loneliness is to do something with somebody else. And believe me, appetite, ease of mind and ease in going to sleep nights all improve as the loneliness recedes. But you must DO things with other people! That's the most important thing of all.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can a baby's head become flat on one side if the baby lies on that side most of the time? The baby is 11 months old. Her head looks longer on one side and sort of flat. Will it round itself out all right or is she too old?—T. S."

Yes, some flattening is possible. The best and simplest solution is to change the position of the baby's bed to the other side of the room so the location of the light, windows, wall, etc., will be reversed and she will start facing the other way. Almost universally the problem corrects itself; if you are dubious, ask yourself how many people do you know who are flat-headed on one side!

☆ ☆ ☆

"Dear Dr. Molner: Some time ago I shook hands with a person who was getting treatment for a cancer on the neck. Since then I have worried for fear I got a germ on my hand or my clothing.—A. C."

Stop worrying. There is no cancer "germ" because it isn't a germ-caused disease. There's no more danger in shaking hands with a person with cancer than there is in shaking hands hands with one who has a broken leg, stomach ulcers or a headache. You can't "catch" cancer.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

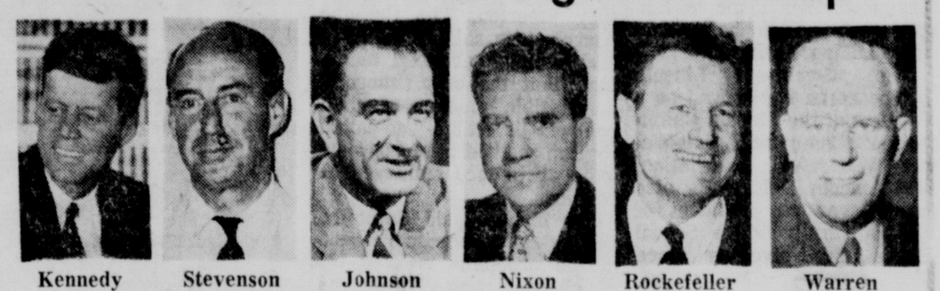
BOB CONSIDINE

A Look At The Starting-Gate Lineup



Kennedy Stevenson Johnson Nixon Rockefeller Warren

NEW YORK — From this hour on you're a 1-to-10 shot to be hit from all sides by presidential polls. Some of these "findings" are reached by interviews with fewer than 2,000 persons out of the massive body called politic. Others reach conclusions mathematically. One esteemed poll is said to depend on how many red beans pop out of a shaken jar of red and white beans. Still others may depend on hallucination or, indeed, revelation.

On hand today is what purports to be a new approach at divining the identity of the presidential candidates of 1960. It is the work of the Gahagan Research Company of New York. It is said to differ from other polls by the use of "psychological projective techniques." Persons questioned (no number mentioned) were asked 25 questions on as many subjects. To-wit:

"He looks like the kind of man who would take a personal interest in people's problem: — (Give name of your choice here.)" Or "He hasn't had enough experience in the problems of government: — (Give name of your choice here.)" Or "He is a little too tricky for my liking: — (Give name of your choice here.)"

Swearing on a stock of old "Literary Digests" the Gahagan people find Nixon far out in front for the GOP nomination and a wide-open Democratic race that may lead to the selection of a dark horse. Which is hardly stop-press news, but the details are interesting.

☆ ☆ ☆

Gahagan says his sampling showed that people consider Kennedy capable and trustworthy "but too young for an important job such as the presidency." Rockefeller showed "surprising potential as a vote-getter, considering the short time he has been in the public eye."

Rocky's weakest showing came in the number of times his name appeared next to the query about the lack of experience in the problems of government. Stevenson got only 11 per cent association with the "People like him. He has a warm, human, friendly personality" and only 9 per cent with "He looks like the kind of man who would take a personal interest in people's problems." But he scored high in a question concerning the candidate who would be most concerned about unemployment.

Symington scored well (19 per cent) in only one category — defense and armed forces — leading all the others in this particular. He was outranked only by . . . Humphrey in being seen as "too closely associated with labor unions."

"Sen. Johnson elicits a consistently low level of response," the survey notes. Nixon's highs and lows: he ranked first or near there in his ability to engender trust, 43.5 per cent; in experience; in dependability in a crisis, 42.5 per cent; in his knowledge of foreign affairs; in concern about unemployment, 22.5 per cent; as a leader; a man with courage; with strength of character, and with consideration for other people. On the negative side, he was seen as egotistical (27.5 per cent), too much of a "professional politician" (18 per cent); "too tricky" (23.5 per cent), "too ambitious" (27.5 per cent) and "unscrupulous" (18 per cent.) He was nosed out in the latter category by Stevenson and followed by Rockefeller, Johnson, according to the poll, came out as least "unscrupulous."

Gahagan, a young Ivy League and Madison Avenue product, concludes:

Kennedy) — "Should wait four years. Extremely difficult to change the emotional perception which people have of him as too young . . . People are quite willing to vote for a younger man as senator (but) they will almost certainly demand a mature, responsible person for the presidency."

(Stevenson)—"At a disadvantage against either Nixon or Rockefeller."

(Symington - Humphrey)—"Potential, possible dark horses."

(Johnson)—"Another dark horse, since his actual importance and reputation in the party stands far above the public's low awareness of him."

(Nixon) — "Strong points far outweigh his weak points. Little question in minds of our staff that if election were held today he would be an easy winner, but it should be recognized that this lead will probably become significantly less disproportionate."

(Rockefeller) — "Rockefeller's weaknesses, particularly those lying in the field of experience, are more easily overcome than those of Nixon, which are based upon emotional prejudices. His strong showing in so short a time makes him a candidate to be reckoned with."

(Chief Justice Warren)—"In the event of a Nixon-Rockefeller deadlock, the "ideal dark horse choice.'"

'The Body' To Sub For Stripper Barr

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — "The Body" will fill in for stripper Candy Barr on the stage of one of this gambling center's resort hotels.

Spokesmen for the El Rancho Vegas, which canned Candy, said Marie (The Body) McDonald has signed to complete the blonde stripteaser's engagement.

Baritone Nelson Eddy turned down the job. He said in Hollywood he thought his act might be too racy for Las Vegas' new moral tone.

Morals Hit

Miss Barr was fired after Clark County commissioners became fussy over the morals of the Las Vegas Strip which has been headlining bare-chested chorus girls as an added attraction to gambling and big-name entertainment.

El Rancho spokesmen said Miss McDonald's song and dance act would run through Dec. 1, when the hotel's dining room will be closed for remodeling.

County commissioners frowned on Candy's appearance on the Strip because of her recent conviction on narcotics possession charges in Dallas, Tex.

More Clothes

The El Rancho Vegas, at the further insistence of the commissioners, also agreed to provide more clothes for its chorus girls.

A separate order to another nightspot to get rid of a female impersonation act hasn't drawn such quick results.

Representatives of the New Frontier Hotel, including president Preston Foster, appeared before the commissioners to say they couldn't fire impersonator T. C. Jones. But they promised not to renew his contract which expires Dec. 5.

The New Frontier officials said the American Variety Guild had threatened to boycott the hotel if Jones were fired.

Commissioners continued the meeting until Monday. They then plan to talk with the New Frontier operator, Warren Bayley.

Lincoln Firm Bids $37,200 On Chem Building Work

Apparent low bidder for general construction work on remodeling of the Agricultural Chemistry Building at the University of Nebraska was O. C. Hirsch Construction Co. of Lincoln. The Lincoln firm submitted a bid of $37,200.

Two other Lincoln firms submitted apparent low bids for other phases of the remodeling. They are M. G. Lehman Co., $22,450 for mechanical work, and Mason Electric Co., $13,345 for electrical work.

The building will be the new home of the Department of Agricultural Information, now housed in the 63-year-old former poultry building and in the Ag Extension Annex.

The Annex will be razed in the near future to provide space for the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, now under construction.

Involved in remodeling the Agricultural Chemistry building are lowering ceilings, resurfacing walls, and placement of partitions on first and second floors.

The Ag Chemistry building was vacated last year by the department of biochemistry and nutrition, which moved into the new $1 million Biochemistry and Nutrition building.

Bids will be submitted for approval to the Board of Regents Dec. 17.

Other bidders, all of Lincoln are:

General—George Cook Construction Co., $38,547; M. W. Anderson Construction Co., $41,990; Kingery Construction Co., $42,397; Walter J. Broer Construction Co., $43,760; and Wilson Construction Co., $44,400.

Mechanical—Bonebright Heating and Air Conditioning Co., $24,583; Cornhusker Heating and Air Conditioning Co., $25,500; Wentz Plumbing and Heating, $25,632; and Natkin and Co., $26,675.

Electrical—ABC Electric Co., $16,400; and Commonwealth Electric Co., $22,419.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Let us pause thankfully this Thanksgiving Day for a peek into Paradise.

For many a dreamy, sunlit year, Hawaii longed to be a State. Why, who knows? They were ALREADY in Paradise. They had coco palms and beach boys. Ukuleles, dancing girls and a climate that blew on you like a silk aloha shirt.

If they had any doubts, they could ask the Honolulu Realty Board. Or the Hawaii Visitors Bureau.

"Hawaii is the Paradise of the Pacific." Flat statement. No quibbling.

Fact is, many of us mainland malihinis came around here for vacation. We said.

"What in the world do you want to be a State for?" And we told them what it was like back in Texas and California and places like that. Rough.

The once-happy island natives are worried men of State. You know what they are worried about? Keeping the unspoiled natives unspoiled.

☆ ☆ ☆

"In the last year before Hawaii became a State," they said to me, "the Mainland money invested here was $10 million!"

"So far this year, the investment has run $95 million!"

The beach at Waikiki is going straight up in the air.

"Property values are so high, we have to utilize the ground wisely," said Henry J. Kaiser, the steel-and-aluminum (and Hawaii) tycoon.

Kaiser's 14-story Hawaiian Village is just a week-end cottage in his over-all plan. He plans to add two 30-story hotels on the same ground and house 5000 people.

Sheraton is building a 1000-room skyscraper alongside the Royal Hawaiian. And right this year at Christmas, you can't get a room for love, money or coconuts in Paradise.

☆ ☆ ☆

About the unspoiled natives: The island of Niihau lies off the tourist island of Kauai. It is about 20 miles long, five wide and some 200 pure Hawaiian residents.

The Robinson family owns it. They kept it as a sort of Polynesian preserve. You can't visit the island. And the islanders have to get permission to go to other islands.

When Statehood came to the islands, the natives no longer were considered native. They were votes. And now I read a lot of things in the Honolulu papers about raising their stature to the state of the new State.

☆ ☆ ☆

"I say, leave these people alone," says a letter to the editor, signed "Son of Hawaii."

"They are happy. That is the main thing. They don't have the worries that we have."

There is a pretty interesting statement—"They don't have the worries that we have."

That is what WE used to say when Hawaii wanted to be a State.

We used to lie around the beach and rub on the suntan lotion. We watched the hula girls hula and the happy natives being happy.

"Let 'em alone," we cried. "They're HAPPY!"

Now it seems they were not happy at all in Paradise. They wanted to eat the apple of Statehood. They wanted taxation with representation.

And now we have it here in Hawaii—a most thankful state of grace.

President's Thanksgiving Day Proclamation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following is the text of President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

The time of harvest turns our thoughts once again to our national festival of Thanksgiving, and the bounties of nature remind us again of our dependence upon the generous hand of Providence.

In this sesquicentennial year of Abraham Lincoln's birth, it is fitting and proper that we should use his words contained in the historic proclamation of 1863, establishing this annual observance, to express anew our gratitude for America's "fruitful fields," for our national "strength and vigor," and for all our "singular deliverances and blessings."

The present year has been one of progress and heightened promise for the way of life to which we, the people, and the government of the United States of America, are dedicated. We rejoice in the productivity of farm and factory, but even more so in the prospect of improvement of relations among men and among nations. We earnestly hope that forbearance, understanding, and conciliation will hold increasing sway among us and among all peoples everywhere.

In the enjoyment of our good life, let us not forget the birthright by which we reap the fruits of life and labor in this fair land. Let us stand fast by the principles of our republic enunciated in word and deed by the statesmen, teachers, and prophets to whom we owe our beginnings. Let us be thankful that we have been spared the consequences of human frailty and error in our exercise of power and freedom. As a token of our gratitude for God's gracious gift of abundance, let us share generously with those less fortunate than we at home and abroad. Let us at this season of Thanksgiving perform deeds of thanksgiving; and, throughout the year, let us fulfill those obligations of citizenship and humanity which spring from grateful hearts.

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the Joint Resolution of the Congress approved December 26, 1941, 55 Stat. 862 5 U.S.C. 87B, designating the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 26, 1959, as a day of national thanksgiving. On that day let us gather in sanctuaries dedicated to worship and in homes devoted to family sharing and community service, to express our gratitude for the inestimable blessings of God; and let us earnestly pray that He continue to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished task of achieving peace among men and nations.

Dr. Bryson Dies; Valentine Native

New York (AP) — Dr. Lyman Bryson, long associated with CBS radio's "Invitation to Learning" education program, is dead of cancer. Bryson, 71, died in a hospital here.

A native of Valentine, Neb., he taught in several colleges before joining the faculty at Teachers College, Columbia University, in 1934.

U.S. CORPORATIONS HAVE ASSETS OF ABOUT TRILLION

Washington (AP) — The Internal Revenue Services said American corporations now have total assets of about one trillion dollars.

IRS said it discovered this in doing a statistical study of corporation tax returns for the 1958 fiscal year.

At that time, IRS said corporations had total sales and receipts in that tax year of 685 billion dollars — a record. On this, they paid income taxes of $20,600,000,000.

Dane Fired From U.N. Post Vanishes

. . . He Waged Battle Against Communism

New York (AP)—A Dane who defied the United Nations in a dogged personal battle against communism—and was fired from a U.N. job as a result—has vanished mysteriously.

A newspaper friend from Denmark voiced fear that the 6 foot, 50-year - old Povl Bang-Jensen was kidnaped by Red agents "and maybe even liquidated."

Bang-Jensen

On the other hand there was a report that Bang-Jensen was worried over his employment prospects. He has been temporarily engaged by CARE, which provides various types of aid to needy areas abroad.

However, CARE officials said Bang-Jensen's job recently was extended for another 6 months. They said he received a good salary and there was a possibility of further work with the organization. "He was doing very well," the officials added.

Bang-Jensen was last reported seen at 7:40 a.m. Monday when he bade his wife goodbye and set out for his Manhattan office from his home in Lake Success, just east of New York City on Long Island.

During his association with the U.N., Bang-Jensen interrogated a number of refugees on behalf of the world organization's Commission on Hungary, which made an inquiry into the 1956 Hungarian uprising put down by Russia.

He subsequently created something of a worldwide stir when he refused to surrender names of those questioned. He said he feared they would fall into Communist hands, with dire results. As a result of his obstinacy, he was fired.

47 Families Get Holiday Gift Baskets

Forty-seven Lincoln families will have a Thanksgiving dinner with all the trimmings because of gift baskets from civic, church and youth organizations in the city.

These organizations received names of needy families through local welfare organizations, and the names were then cleared by the holiday bureau of the Lincoln Community Chest and Council in order to prevent duplication.

The holiday bureau, which has been in operation for 29 years, doesn't itself handle contributions, but acts as a central clearing agency between contributing organizations and welfare associations.

The bureau also assists in distribution of Christmas gifts to needy families.

Merriam Will Tour SAC Headquarters

Omaha (AP) — Robert E. Merriam, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, will tour Strategic Air Command headquarters Friday and visit Omaha relatives.

Merriam, former member of the Chicago City Council, is a brother of John Merriam, Omaha, president of the Northern Natural Gas Co.

Court Says '53 Buick Brakes 'Faulty—Public Not Warned'

Lansing, Mich. (UPI)—The Michigan Supreme Court said Wednesday power brakes on 1953 Buicks were defective and that General Motors failed to warn Buick owners they were driving a "dangerous instrument."

The court, in an opinion by Justice George Edwards, said GM had "warned its dealers" of a defect in the power brake systems.

But it said the firm "did not warn those into whose hands they had placed this dangerous instrument and whose lives (along with the lives of others) depended upon defective brakes which might fail without notice."

Reverses Order

The opinion came in a decision in which the high court reversed a lower court judge who had thrown out a damage suit against GM.

The high court said a "modern automobile equipped with power brakes which fail without notice is as dangerous as a loaded gun."

The court said Buick agencies were instructed to make repairs on power brake systems at GM expense whenever 1953 Buicks came into their shops "without notice to the owners and even if there were no complaints about the brakes."

An industry source said about 85,000 Buicks were made with power brakes in the calendar year of 1953 and most of them would be 1953 models.

Some Cars Received New Brake Parts Here

Walter W. "Pat" White, sales manager for the former Sidles Motors Inc. which held the Buick dealership in Lincoln until 1956, said that "several" 1953 model Buicks had received new brake parts at General Motors expense following the announcement of the defective part.

White said that power brakes were "very new at that time and few cars had them." He estimated that one or two dozen 1953 models with power brakes were sold here.

In cases where repairs were made, White said, the owners "were informed we made the change."

Appeal Made To Court Order For Probate

. . . Coryell Will

A brother of the late Mrs. L. L. Coryell Sr. of Lincoln has appealed to Lancaster District Court a County Court order admitting Mrs. Coryell's will to probate.

Glen Parker of Denver, Colo., had contested the validity of the will in County Court and had alleged the will was the result of "undue influence" and "fraud."

But County Judge Herbert A. Ronin ruled Nov. 9 that the will was valid and also held that Parker has "no pecuniary interest" in the will.

Parker announced he would appeal the ruling and the appeal was filed Wednesday in District Court.

Mrs. Coryell, who died Sept. 17, was the widow of prominent Lincoln businessman L. L. Coryell Sr. who died in 1953.

She left half of her estate to the L. L. Coryell & Son Park Foundation Inc., which operates a public park about 9 miles northwest of Auburn. The other half of her estate was left in equal shares to her sister, Pearl Parker of Denver, and to her husband's niece, Mary Bailey of Lincoln.

No value has as yet been fixed on her estate.

PIN OAKS

than those growing in our fields!

Everyday many people are selecting the tree of their choice for delivery or planting.

This Pin Oak is $60.00 planted.
We have many trees much larger. They run up to $350.00 each.

With its brilliant autumnal foliage and rapid, symmetrical habit of growth, this tree is in high demand. We have over 1000 to pick from. We dig them all balled and burlapped, and they are all guaranteed to grow. They are priced, either delivered or completely planted, from $13.50 to $350.00. Many home owners buy those in the $25.00 to $60.00 range; these are more symmetrical than the smaller sizes because we have had more time to train them in our fields. For those folks who feel that time is running out, we recommend still larger trees. We do have men and equipment to successfully dig and plant all sizes.

Hwy. 2 Completion In Bid Letting

The long-delayed completion of Nebraska Highway 2 from Unadilla to Nebraska 50 near Syracuse is included in a Dec. 17 Highway Department letting advertised Wednesday.

The letting advertisement for bids calls for 13.1 miles of grading, structures and pavement to close the gap between Unadilla and Syracuse.

The stretch has been stalled by opposition in the area to a diagonal route selected by the department and approved by the State Highway Commission.

Land owners in the area objected strongly on the grounds it would chop up several farms. Alternate routes were suggested but rejected.

The Highway 2 project.

The project had been programmed in the 1957-59 supplemental program resulting from the one cent gas tax boost. But when the feuding over location reached a peak, former State Engineer L. N. Ress kicked it out.

The two-year program then had $541,000 programmed for the improvement. The entire Nebraska 2 project, of which the part from Lincoln to Unadilla has been in operation for a couple years now, was programmed at $1,341,000.

Heart Condition Found Main Cause Of Woman's Death

Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Paul Douglas said Wednesday an autopsy showed the primary cause of death of Mrs. Buelah Bell Fisher of 1740 C was a heart condition.

Mrs. Fisher, 63, died at a local hospital about 3 hours after another woman who lived in the same apartment building where she resided had become ill from gas fumes.

Douglas said further tests are being made to determine if the fumes contributed to Mrs. Fisher's death.

Mrs. Donna Jorgenson, who with her husband and baby daughter lives across the hall from Mrs. Fisher, became ill Tuesday evening and was hospitalized overnight. She was released Wednesday.

Liquid Solder

Police and firemen said they believed Mrs. Jorgenson became ill from fumes escaping from the radiator in the Jorgenson apartment. They said a liquid solder solution used to repair a crack in the building's boiler probably was the source of the fumes.

The boiler repairman, however, said the solution has been used in Lincoln schools for boiler work for years and no difficulty has resulted.

Mrs. Fisher reportedly had told police investigating Mrs. Jorgenson's illness that she herself felt ill, but Mrs. Fisher reportedly said she had not noticed any fumes in her own apartment.

The liquid solder solution in question is being tested by state laboratory experts to determine if it contains a toxic agent, Douglas said.

5 Defendants Arraigned On Auto Charges

Five defendants were arraigned Wednesday before U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt on federal charges involving stolen cars.

Edward John Gale, 20, of Milan, Ill., pleaded guilty to transporting a stolen car from Illinois to Nebraska on Oct. 5 and was given an indeterminate sentence under the Youth Corrections Act.

Roy Daniel Dick, 18, of Madison, Wis., and Suzanna Katherine Signorile, 19, of Sauk City, Wis., were charged with transporting a stolen car Oct. 3 from Madison to Hastings, Neb.

Dick pleaded guilty and was placed on two years probation. Miss Signorile was also placed on two years probation after pleading no contest to the charge.

Two Modesto, Calif., youths pleaded guilty to transporting a stolen car from Wyoming to Nebraska on Oct. 22.

They were Richard Randazzo, 17, who pleaded under the juvenile delinquency code and was placed in federal custody during his minority, and Archie Lee Hodge, 19, who was placed on two years probation.

Open Bids On 1st Part Of Elgin Building Remodeling

Commonwealth Electric Company of Lincoln appeared to be the low bidder, with a base bid of $63,990, for the installation of a new electrical distribution system at the former Elgin building on the University of Nebraska campus.

Other bids opened Wednesday were:

Mason Electric Company of Lincoln, $65,847; and ABC Electric Co. of Lincoln, $67,790.

The opening of the bids represented the first phase of the remodeling work on the six-story building which was purchased by the University last year.

The bids will be submitted for approval to the Board of Regents Dec. 17.

According to Verner Meyers, director of the division of planning and construction, the work will consist of constructing a transformer room on the northwest corner of the first floor, the placement of the transformer, and the tieing-in of the building's electrical system with heavy lines along north 16th street. Work is expected to begin immediately after acceptance of bids by the Regents.

The next step in the proposed $2-$3 million remodeling project will be the development of the basement and first floors, such as corridors and partitions. Occupants will include the Conservation and Survey Division in a portion of the first floor and the printing and duplicating departments in the basement.

School Nurse Must Be Retirement Member

The attorney general ruled that a nurse who is a senior school employe cannot elect to be excluded from the membership of the school retirement system.

The opinion noted that the law provides that all senior school employes shall be members of the retirement system.

The opinion was provided for Glenn I. Anderson, state director of retirement systems.

DRIVERS ADVISED TO TAKE IT EASY

Col. C. J. Sanders, Nebraska Safety Patrol chief, Wednesday advised motorists to take it easy during their Thanksgiving Day travels, whether just across town or across the state.

"Start out in plenty of time to avoid any need for risking higher-than-safe speeds, keep a safe margin between cars, allow plenty of space for passing, and dim lights when meeting or following vehicles at night," he suggested.

Nebraska recorded only one traffic death on Thanksgiving Day last year but there were five fatalities over the week end following Thanksgiving, Col. Sanders noted.

"Let's show our thanks for the privilege of free use of our highways by demonstrating that we can steer clear of holiday accidents," he said.

Mexico Making Planes

Mexico City (AP) — Mexican made 6-passenger planes will start coming off the assembly line next April, the Lockheed-Azacarte Co. reports. President Juan F. Azacarte said work is being rushed at the San Luis Potosi plant. It will employ about 1,000.

Ex-Bank Teller's Hearing Deferred Until Next Week

A federal court hearing in connection with the prosecution of Shirley A. Clark, 32, former McCook bank teller, has been deferred until Dec. 4, court sources reported Wednesday.

The hearing will be a defense motion to dismiss the federal information against Miss Clark on the grounds it fails to apprise the defendant precisely of the crime charged.

The information charges the defendant with 33 counts of embezzlement, false entries, and misapplication of credits at the First National Bank of McCook.

WEST POINT LIQUOR LICENSE IS DENIED

The State Liquor Control Commission said it has denied a package liquor license to Eugene A. Evert of West Point.

The commission found that the West Point City Council had recommended denial and that the city did not act arbitrarily and without good and sufficient cause.

1st Cochran Bridge Will Be Replaced

Forty-four years ago State Engineer Roy Cochran built a bridge—his first for the state.

Wednesday he advertised for bids to replace that bridge on U.S. 30 just east of North Platte.

The state engineer described the occasion as nostalgic.

As a state bridge inspector in 1915 he designed the $44,000 18-foot wide steel structure.

But as many other things, progress has made it obsolete.

Its replacement will be a spacious 30-foot wide modern bridge to handle the more than 4,000 daily vehicle load and will cost many many times more than the original structure.

In the days when the bridge was modern, Cochran recalled that a truck was something of a curiosity.

But not so today, especially on U.S. 30.

The old bridge is still sound and adequate for normal traffic but it wasn't designed for modern heavy truck loads.

Replacement of his first major project is not discouraging, Cochran observed.

"Its utility over the years has been well proven."

Recalling his earlier days with the department which he commanded, then rose to be governor, then returned to his old post as engineer when Governor Brooks took over, Cochran said the speed limit was 35 miles an hour until as late as 1929 when it increased to 45.

Until 1929, he said, the department depended upon counties to obtain right-of-way and for highway maintenance.

In 1929, the state received the authority to take over these functions, he recalled.

Heavy-Eating Lions

Ardmore, Okla. (AP) — Two lions that eat like horses are breaking up the Junior Chamber of Commerce's zoo. Jaycee President Burke Mordy said the heavy eaters are taking too big of a bite out of the group's treasury and that was why he is offering the animals to the city.

Loaded—With Lipstick

Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — L. Harold Wright says his wife, hunting pheasants with him, raised her gun to fire, but there was only a click when she pulled the trigger. She had shoved a tube of lipstick into the chamber, thinking it was a shotgun shell.

Dear Abby--

Abigail Van Buren

If I were to set down all the things for which I have to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day, I could fill this page. But I would like to share with you a few unpublished letters from readers. And for these I am truly thankful.

ABBY

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you never hear from people to whom you have given advice, but here is one who wants you to know that in March, 1958, I wrote to you and asked you how to get over a love affair that was destroying me. (He was a married man.) You wrote me two pages of the best advice I have ever had. I carried your letter around and read it until it was so worn out I had to recopy it. Well, I took your advice, Abby, and I know you'll be pleased to learn that I am going to be married on Christmas Day to the most wonderful man in the world. Thank you for opening my eyes.

GLORIA X
(Los Angeles, Calif.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I want to thank you for recommending ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in your column. We are both alcoholics. I have been dry for four years and my husband for six. I am sure you have educated many people who formerly felt that alcoholics were to be punished and cursed. On behalf of all of us who are fighting this battle, please accept our thanks for your understanding.

B. AND J.
(Houston, Texas)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for telling me that there was a place like the Florence Crittenton Home for unwed mothers in Denver. You will never know how close I came to taking my life the day your letter arrived.

"JUST IN TIME"
(Denver, Colo.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: If you never write another line you will have earned your place in heaven for your answer to "FIFTEEN." The boy in the case was my son. Your advice, "Tell your parents. They are your best friends and the only ones who can help you" gave him the courage to talk to his Dad. Bless you, Dear Abby. May you live to be 100.

MRS. J. J. C.
(Oklahoma City)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Judy had a baby this morning and she asked me to write and give you the news first because you are the one who sent her here. She sends her love and says she will never forget you.

ANNA (Mary Talber Home, Cleveland, O.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I wrote you a five-page letter, Abby, but you'll never see it because I tore it up. But it will probably give you a lot of satisfaction to know that I found the answer to my problem myself just by writing it out. I hope others will do what I did. It is a lot cheaper than psychiatry and the principle is the same. Sincerely yours,

W. C. (WASHINGTON, D.C.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. Marion Carcioppolo was not the only one who cut out the letter to CANNOT BE CONSOLED and hung it in her kitchen. We lost a wonderful son in World War Two. A mother never gets over a loss like this. But, Abby, that letter in your column has also helped me to pray harder and to cry less. Thought you'd like to know.

MRS. H. L. (Philadelphia)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "TOO LATE" from the woman who was "'too busy" to go to visit her poor gray-haired parents hit home with me, Abby. I was also "TOO BUSY" to give my elderly parents the attenion they deserved, but thank God I am not too late. You woke me up.

"NOT TOO LATE",
(Allentown, Pa.)

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

Tricks that can be made to disappear into thin air are generally a source of great interest to the bridge player.

Examine all four hands and it appears that declarer is destined to lose three trump tricks and a diamond. But South, warned by the double to expect a bad trump division, not only made the contract but also succeeded in making an overtrick.

Declarer won the diamond lead with the king and started a campaign to make as many of his small trumps by ruffing as he could. He first cashed two high clubs and trumped a club.

Next he entered dummy with a diamond and ruffed the last club. After then cashing the A-K of spades, declarer ruffed a spade.

By this time nine tricks had been played and South had won them all. His last four cards consisted of the K-8-7 of hearts and a losing diamond.

East, in the meantime, had done nothing but follow suit and now held the A-J-10-9 of hearts.

With the contract already assured, South set out to win the overtrick. He led the nine of diamonds. West played the ten but East was forced to trump it.

East had to return a trump. It made no difference which one he led. Declarer was bound to make both the queen and king and wound up making five hearts. All told, South lost two trump tricks.

It is doubtful that declarer would have adopted this line of play but for the double. It would have been more normal to tackle the trumps immediately in the hope of finding the usual 3-2 division. He still might have made the hand, but certainly not the overtrick.

East's double, questionable to begin with, put South on the right track. It emphasized once again the most important single word there is in the vocabulary of contract bridge.

Pass.

Talk

—And a happy Thanksgiving day to you, too—As almost anyone would suspect there are names to add to the Thanksgiving guest list this morning—There, also, are courtesies for a popular bride-elect

Before we delve into Thanksgiving, bridal courtesies and just news in general, however, we have a story to finish—the one about the Nebraska Art Association and its Rental-Sales Gallery annual pre-Christmas event which opens on Sunday afternoon—We learned, for instance, that pictures by Nebraska artists are to be included in the collection to be displayed, and in addition to the fabulous lithographs, etchings, serigraphs, woodcuts and paintings which, incidentally one may purchase —there will be a selection of watercolors which also will be for sale.

* * *

—Arriving from Greeley, Colo., on Wednesday evening were Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Schaumberg and their five children, Buzzy, Paul, Susan Marie, Jack and Tommy. The visitors will remain through the Thanksgiving week end as the guests of Mrs. Schaumberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hyland, and Dr. Schaumberg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Schaumberg.

* * *

—These are exceedingly busy days for Miss Janice Weil whose marriage to Alan Libman of Champaign, Ill., will be solemnized on Saturday.

This evening Miss Weil's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Weil, will entertain at dinner at their home in courtesy to the bride-elect and her fiance. The guest list will include members of the families, and out of town guests.

On Friday evening Miss Weil and Mr. Libman will be complimented at a prenuptial dinner for which the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Livingston of Omaha, will be host and hostess at Hotel Cornhusker.

And on Saturday Mr. Libman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Libman of Miami Beach, Fla., will entertain at a brunch at Hotel Cornhusker, honoring their son and Miss Weil.

The Star In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

Returning to Sonderstrom Air Force Base in Greenland last night was Capt. Robert J. Morgan. Capt. Morgan had arrived home early this month for a visit with his wife and family.

Heard that Sgt. and Mrs. John L. Norris and their sons will be the guests of Mrs. Norris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Johnson, at their home in Millard on Thanksgiving Day.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Motoring to Agenda, Kan., for Thanksgiving are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westrick and their children, Terry, Cathy and Tim. The family will be visiting Mrs. Westrick's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pickard, as well as other family members.

Mention of the Westrick family reminds us that on Sunday, Nov. 22, Mr. and Mrs. Westrick had as their houseguests Mr. Westrick's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore of Grand Valley, Colo.

Also included among the guests present for a Sunday evening dinner were Mr. Westrick's mother, Mrs. Sidna Westrick, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Isaacson.

Entertaining at a coffee on Tuesday, Nov. 24, was Mrs. Kenneth Alles. The informal affair was given in honor of Mrs. Lewis Holland who was celebrating her birthday.

On hand for the morning were Mrs. Don Bangert, Mrs. John Laux, Mrs. Jack Speck, Mrs. Glen Herbert, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Arthur Herbert, Mrs. Jack Legler, Mrs. Jack Herbert, Mrs. Ray Westrick, Mrs. Don Hass, and their children.

MEADOW LANE

Motoring to Arapahoe for the holiday will be Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner and their son, Johnny. The family will visit with Mrs. Skinner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Magorian.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Amen, 1420 Peach, will leave on Wednesday for Amarillo, Tex., where they will spend the Thanksgiving holiday visiting their son, Jerry, who is attending the Air Force school. The Amens will be accompanied by Jerry Amen's fiancee, Miss Bonnie Rediger.

M. Antoine Relaxes At Day's End

Meeting an old friend in Lincoln, Neb., probably was the last thing M. Antoine expected when he arrived in town last Sunday evening. But meet one he did—Mrs. B. Frank Watson who, before her marriage some 14 years ago, resided in her native country and who, for several of the pre-war years—from 1925-to-1931 had her hair washed, brushed, combed and styled by none other than the famous Antoine.

Mrs. Watson, incidentally, was pressed into service as an interpreter since the rumor was around that M. Antoine spoke no English. Doubtless Mrs. Watson was needed on occasion, but we can enthusiastically testify that the charming gentleman, noted not only in France, but throughout Europe and the United States for his hair styling, speaks English very well indeed.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday were busy days for the visitor, but on Tuesday evening he took time out for a bit of relaxation when Mr. and Mrs. Watson entertained a small group at dinner at the University Club.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Although the turkey has become the national symbol of Thanksgiving, not everyone who celebrates the day sits down to the traditional turkey dinner.

In some parts of the country, breakfast or a simple lunch is the custom. In Plymouth, Mass., where thanksgiving was originated by Gov. William Bradford and the pilgrims in 1621, tradition calls for special breakfasts. And sometime during the day cider and doughnuts are on the menu.

In Pennsylvania, a group known as the Schwenkfelders may bring on the bird, but late in September, the Schwenkfelders held their own Thanksgiving. In 1724, the protestant ancestors of this group came from Germany seeking religious freedom. About 40 families—all that were left after persecution and hardships—settled near Philadelphia. And they held a feast of Thanksgiving. Today, their descendants still eat that "feast" —bread, apple butter and water.

To be authentic, our menus should include, besides turkey, such pilgrim dishes as wood pigeons, partridges, venison, fish, clams and oysters. And our turkeys should be wild, stuffed with beechnuts.

On that first Thanksgiving, religious services were held. Then the Indians and Pilgrims contended in games and races, and Miles Standish led his regiment of 20 men in military drills. Today, in some parts of the country, the custom of playing games on Thanksgiving still holds, mainly among children. Some places children dress up after dinner in costumes and masks. This has been attributed to the youngsters' desire to wear their halloween costumes again.

The turkey has found a place on Thanksgiving off the table, too. In rural areas, turkey shoots are staged. Employers often present their employes with a bird. Stores give away turkeys as bonuses.

Thanksgiving heralds the opening of the Christmas season for department stores and shopping centers. In places such as New York, Newark, N. J., and Columbus, O., the season is started with a Thanksgiving Day parade of floats and giant figures.

But mainly the holiday is one of feasting. If it's any comfort to Mom who spends the day in the kitchen, history books tell us that Priscilla Alden spent the first Thanksgiving presiding over the largest oven, cooking special dishes.

KITCHEN PIN-UP

Here's a wonderful main dish for the busy housewife. Kraut Sausage cups can be prepared early in the day and chilled until 30 minutes before dinner time when they can be reheated.

KRAUT SAUSAGE CUPS

1½ pounds sausage meat
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
3½ cups sauerkraut
2 cups canned apple sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine sausage, eggs and crumbs; mix well. Press on bottom and sides of 6 individual baking dishes. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 40 minutes. Drain off drippings. Drain kraut. Combine kraut and remaining ingredients; mix well. Fill sausage cups with kraut mixture. Bake 20 minutes. Serves 6.

As you gather friends and loved ones about you this Thanksgiving day, take a moment to remember the true meaning of the occasion . . . "and be ye thankful."

Evening Ceremony

MRS. DENNIS N. MALONE

Spray arrangements of gladioli and Fujii chrysanthemums in shades of gold and bronze formed the background in the First Methodist Church Wednesday evening, Nov. 25, for the wedding of Miss Kathryn Lyne Sack, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Sack, and Dennis N. Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Malone. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Carl M. Davidson in the presence of 100 guests.

Wearing identically styled frocks of crystallette over taffeta were the matron of honor, Mrs. F. Gordon Metzger of Littleton, Colo., in the gold tone; Miss Kathryn Hrubesky, Geneva, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Sharon Hanna, Cozad, wearing bronze shades. They carried cascades of chrysanthemums in gold and bronze. Miss Marilyn Nichols, Geneva, and Mrs. Larry J. Henthorn lighted the chancel candles.

Charles A. Owens served Mr. Malone as best man, and seating the guests were Larry J. Henthorn and Forrest Gerald Ryon.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white silk taffeta. Seed pearls embroidered in a floral motif patterned the rounded decolletage of the long-sleeved bodice, and the skirt, caught into the fullness of unpressed pleats, extended into a chapel train beneath a bustle effect of taffeta roses. Her illusion veil was held by a tiara of pearls, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a white orchid and stephanotis.

The couple will reside at 5342 Cleveland. A former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, the bride is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. Mr. Malone will be a June graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Engineering.

MISS GENEVIEVE REBSOMEN

Coed Is Betrothed

Announcement is being made this morning of the betrothal of Miss Genevieve Rebsomen of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Rebsomen of Casablanca, Morocco, to Leonard D. Fontain, son of Mrs. Ethel Fontain of Chadron, and the late Oliver Fontain.

The wedding will take place on Dec. 28, in Lincoln.

A student at the University of Nebraska, the bride-elect is an instructor for the university's foreign language program for children and also teaches at Clinton School.

Mr. Fontain is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is studying for his doctorate in mathematics at the University of Nebraska, where he is an instructor.

Honored

Miss Margaret Joy was the surprised honoree on Monday evening when Mrs. William Toon and Mrs. James Horn entertained at a birthday party at the home of Mrs. Toon.

Fifteen guests were invited for an informal evening.

Lincoln Club Activity

A meeting of CHAPTER CS, PEO, will be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. R. Snipes, 1317 No. 33rd. The members will meet for a 1 o'clock sandwich luncheon followed by a program.

Mrs. Wilbur Hassenplug was hostess last Friday afternoon to the members of the LOOKOUT EXTENSION CLUB. Mrs. Marvin Burcham was assisting hostess, and the lesson on skillet meals was presented by Mrs. Glenn Reed and Mrs. Ray Burcham.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Parrott who will be hostess for the annual Christmas party of the club.

Mrs. John A. Kees, state president of the Nebraska Court of Assistants, National Society of WOMEN DESCENDANTS of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, entertained members of the organization at her home last Saturday.

Attending the luncheon and meeting were 15 members from Lincoln, Omaha, York, Grand Island and Columbus.

Each member spoke briefly on the history of the Artillery Company, founded in Boston in 1637 and active in Colonial times, and the group voted to contribute to Hillside School for Boys, Hillside, Mass., and Crossnore School, Crossnore, N.C.

Special guests at the Monday evening square dance lesson, one of a series sponsored by the LINCOLN COUNCIL of Folk and SQUARE DANCE CLUBS, will be the presidents of all the Lincoln square dance clubs. Dancing will begin at 7:30 o'clock at the Antelope Park pavilion.

At the recent meeting of the council, Louis Quinlan was re-elected treasurer of the organization. Also re-elected was Mrs. Donald Schafer, historian and publicity chairman.

Won't Vacate Unless Permit Ends—Steen

. . . FIRING AT FORT ROBINSON

The Nebraska Game Commission will not take action to vacate Fort Robinson "as long as we have a permit," M. O. Steen, commission director said Wednesday.

He made the comment when informed that Don F. Robertson, North Platte, chairman of the commission, would request him to withhold action to vacate the fort until the commission had a chance to study the matter.

Steen said the subject will come up for discussion at the regular meeting of the commission Dec. 18.

Representatives of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the University of Nebraska board of regents, and Sen. George Syas' legislative council committee on recreation have been invited to the meeting.

The USDA and the university have extensive beef breeding research facilities at the fort.

The USDA has complete authority at the fort and the commission occupies part of the area only under a revocable permit issued by the USDA.

At a recent meeting of the Syas committee, Steen informed T. C. Byerly of the USDA that the commission would not longer "put up with the unfounded accusations" of the USDA regarding alleged abuses of the commission's privileges at the fort.

After that meeting, Steen said, "Byerly and I, as far as the commission knows, reached an agreement for continuation of the lease, but this is subject to determination by the USDA."

Steen added: "We believe we have met the objections of the USDA and we are not going to sit still for any further unfounded accusations by the department."

On Nov. 30, Fort Robinson will be no more unless a stay is issued by the USDA in Washington.

The fort will die a sudden death after not quite 4 years of life as a state park.

McGinley Asks For Extension

Rep. Donald McGinley (R-Neb.) urged the U.S. Department of Agriculture Wednesday to extend for another 60 or 90 days the agreement under which the State Game Commission is permitted to operate at Fort Robinson in Western Nebraska.

The lease should be extended "until a suitable arrangement can be worked out for joint use of the facility," the Congressman wrote T. C. Byerly, regional USDA director.

"The vast majority of persons interested in the beef research program and its important developments at Fort Robinson know that this great facility can and must be utilized on a combination use basis," Rep. McGinley wrote.

"I have observed the development of this area for several years and am closely acquainted with principal parties of all those directly interested in Fort Robinson.

"I know these people to be reasonable and if the opportunity for a formal conference and study can be arranged will work out a permanent plan which will allow maximum use and development of this valuable historic and picturesque region which lies in my congressional district of Nebraska."

—$100 For Throwing Game—

Prep Players Decline Bribe

Bangor, Pa. (AP)—The two star players on the Bangor High School football team were offered $100 bribes to throw the traditional game against Pen Argyl in northeastern Pennsylvania Thanksgiving Day.

The boys said money was waved under their noses by a short, stout man between 40 and 50.

They rejected the offer on the spot and went to their coach.

State police and the Northampton County district attorney's office were called in and they are trying to track down the man who offered the bribe.

The 18-year-old boys were approached separately last Saturday night. They reported to coach David Pritchard at football practice Monday. He went to police.

Repeat Story

They repeated their story Monday night at a conference attended by local police, school authorities and this rural town's chief Burgess.

All said this was the first such offer ever made to a high school player in the Lehigh valley and the other players on the team were not approached.

Dist. Atty. Edward Ruyak said the case probably would be closed with the arrest and prosecution of this man.

"At the moment," he said, "there would seem to be no ramifications, but of course anything can develop from the questioning of this man."

He said police have some leads, but not enough evidence to make an arrest.

'Play Under Best'

The boys said the man asked them to "play under their best."

They are Duane LeBar and Ron Mack, both tackles. They are over 6 feet and weigh between 210 and 220 pounds. Pritchard said they are the key men on the line.

The game today will decide an informal "slate belt" championship involving only these teams.

WEST TEXAS FIRES COACH

Canyon, Tex. (AP)—West Texas State College Wednesday fired Clark Jarnagin as head football coach.

Dr. J. P. Cornett, college president, announced Jarnagin's dismissal, but said nothing about the coach's successor.

Jarnagin had been head coach of West Texas State for the past two years. During his tenure West Texas had its worst record in its history, having won only one game and lost 9 in each season.

LONE STAR CONTEST TOPS TURKEY SLATE

Longhorns 10-Point Pick Over Aggies

By The Associated Press

The tradition-stepped rivalry between Texas and Texas Aggies flares again today to highlight a comparatively slim Thanksgiving Day college football menu.

Other contests hold sectional interest, and in one major intersectional clash Washington State takes on the University of Houston at Houston.

But it is the battle between the Longhorns and their state rival that is the focus for national interest, particularly because a victory for the university will mean a bid to the Cotton Bowl and a chance to battle mighty Syracuse. Texas is a 10-point favorite.

In the East, Penn and Cornell tangle in a game which is of prime interest to the Ivy League, and down in Carolina territory Duke and North Carolina, located practically a pop-gun shot from each other, meet in a game which always is bitterly contested.

Both Duke and the Tar Heels have shown steady improvement after a slow start. The Blue Devils are rated a 4-point favorite in the game, expected to draw a crowd of 35,000.

Of 45 meetings Duke has won 24, North Carolina 18, and 3 were tied.

The Washington State-Houston game is an added starter, not having been on the original schedules of the teams. The Cougars from the northwest are rated 10-point favorites over Houston, which has a 3-6 record.

Brown and Colgate, ancient rivals, meet in an eastern game in which Brown is rated the favorite.

In other games on the Thanksgiving Program Virginia Tech takes on VMI, with the Southern Conference title hinging on the game, Cincinnati plays Miami of Ohio, Wyoming tackles Denver, and Tulsa plays Wichita.

Texas A&M has little to gain except glory and prestige in its underdog battle against the Longhorns. Texas is having one of its finest seasons, while the Aggies can't even share the Southwest Conference title, as Texas can if it wins.

In the long history of the classic A&M has won only 17 of the 65 games. A victory today probably would be the sweetest in that long history.

Trotters Put 'Em In Aisle

. . . Gals, Too

By Paul LeBar

Owner Abe Saperstein's court magicians, the Harlem Globetrotters, put 'em in the aisles at Pershing Auditorium again Wednesday night.

Abe brought in his world-traveling Negro attraction with a bonanza variety show and a tennis exhibition to keep a crowd of 4,400 enthralled.

Gibson, Fageros Show

Feminine tennis stars Althea Gibson and Karol Fageros opened with a sizzling demonstration on the hardwoods.

Miss Gibson, two-time world's champion, outdistanced the glamorous Miss Fageros 8 games to 4.

Karol, a much-heralded blonde bombshell out of Miami, Fla., substituted white for gold lingerie, but no one seemed to mind.

She coaxed support from the gallery by breaking Miss Gibson's service twice before folding.

Meadowlark Is Panic

Althea, lithe Harlem star, was still impressive with her placements and range.

Meadowlark Lemon and Co. shocked a team of San Francisco All-Nations performers into submission, 81-66, in the basketball attraction.

The inimitable court jester frolicked for 21 points against his flabbergasted foes.

Lemon's supporting cast of Tex Harrison, Showboat Hall, Bobby Milton and Murphy Summons lived it up equally well.

'Acts On Schedule'

The Globetrotters proceeded through their repertoire of cage antics without a hitch while mounting quarter leads of 24-18, 41-30 and 63-44.

Old standard crowd-pleasers included the Trotters' baseball and football acts plus Meadowlarks' pranks with non-regulation basketballs.

It sent the crowd home chuckling.

KEEPING SCORE

With Al Beebe

Star Sports Staff Writer

No Time To Brag

Fellow noted that I hadn't been bragging much about my old home town team, New Mexico, scoring a 28-27 upset of the Air Force last week.

I pointed out that my alma mater, Southern Cal, had been knocked from the unbeaten ranks by some hick school called UCLA, 10-3.

It was a stand-off.

Scottsbluff 'Luck'

Headline in the Hastings Tribune over the story on Scottsbluff's Big 10 playoff victory:

"Scottsbluff Lucks Out Again".

This is one time I must rise to the defense of Scottsbluff.

Whenever, a team compiles the enviable record which the Bearcats have, luck is only a relatively small part of the ingredients used.

In the 14-13 win over Norfolk, the Bearcats were outgained, to be sure. But both touchdowns were earned, and it cannot be called "luck" when Sid Micek converted both extra points.

Norfolk played a highly creditable game, but it is unfair to say it was all "luck" that beat them.

I believe I detect a touch of jealousy in Hastings.

Reason For Jealousy

There is reason to be envious of Scottsbluff's success, however. A year ago, the Bearcats were loaded, they were supposed to win, and they did. This year, most of that team was gone, Scottsbluff was not expected to be as strong, but they won, anyway.

Feeling I encountered, generally, was that the Big 10 was not a strong loop this fall. That's borne out by the figures.

In non-conference action, Big 10 teams won 21, lost 20. A conference of teams as good as the Big 10 is supposed to be should do better than that. The Inter-City League, for instance, boasted a 14-4 non-conference record.

Nevertheless, Scottsbluff won in spectacular fashion, and it can't be slandered for that.

Tougher For Lincoln Teams

During the 12 years during which the state held 4-class, 32-team state basketball tournaments, Lincoln teams won 4 crowns. Lincoln High won in 1942 and 1946 under the system, Northeast put two together in 1949-50.

During the 5 years, however, in which a 6-class tourney with 24 teams has been used, Lincoln squads have won twice. That's the Links' past two crowns, naturally.

Now the reasoning may be faulty, but the point is that Lincoln teams, the big schools, may have more to complain about if a return to the old system is effected than the little schools expected to do the crying.

It would seem championships would be more difficult to come by for Lincoln teams under the 4-class system. Strangely, with the 6 classes, 3 teams have won Class AA titles, and 3 have won Class E crowns.

No matter what the system, you aren't going to win a state championship without a good team. Get a good enough team, and you'll win under any situation.

Bethany Batters Luther JC, 89-66

Wahoo—Luther Junior College led during most of the first half, but finally succumbed, 89-66, to Bethany JC of Mankato, Minn., in the opening cage game here Wednesday night.

Luther held as much as an 8-point lead at 32-24 in the first half, but trailed at intermission, 38-34.

Luther's B team lost to Trinity Lutheran of Lincoln, 89-51.

Ingemar Intends For Patterson To Get Rematch--In New York

Goteborg, Sweden (AP)—World heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson declared Wednesday he intends to live up to his contract calling for a return title bout with Floyd Patterson.

Johansson also said he was more convinced than ever in New York.

"Contract or no contract," said the man who knocked out Patterson in 3 rounds last June, "I shall give Patterson a return go. I know him for a fine sportsman. He lost and took it gamely, not making any undue excuses. I have promised him his fair chance to a return match and shall stand by that promise whatever happens."

Johansson made no mention of Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, who recently had his manager's and second's licenses suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission. He had been quoted as saying he would not fight Patterson as long as D'Amato was his manager.

Johansson was visited by Joe Tepper, a would-be American promoter of a return fight, but told him he would do nothing until he received official confirmation of the latest news from the boxing front in New York.

"I have talked things over with Tepper, whom I know well and have full confidence in," said Johansson. "But we have decided that we must wait until we get official confirmation of the reports from New York."

"The latest turn of events has made me more convinced than ever that the match should go to New York."

Johansson's advisor, Edwin Ahlquist, said he shared Ingemar's feelings with respect to Patterson and New York.

—Cincinnati's Robertson Now 205-Pounder—

Coach Says 'Big O' Heavier And Better

Cincinnati (AP) — This has a familiar sound, but it's worth repeating because the head coach said so.

Oscar Robertson, the "Big O" of the University of Cincinnati's basketball team, "is heavier than ever, better than ever, and will be as great a star in the professional ranks when the time comes . . ."

In those words Coach George Smith described his tall, lean Negro wizard.

"He began practice weighing 205 pounds and has not lost any of it," Smith continued. "He always was a confident guy, but this year he seems to have added spark.

"It will be Oscar who will be the 'take charge' guy on our club this year, right from the start. He knows basketball and has all the skills. . ."

Smith, whose team won the Missouri Valley Conference championship the last two years, also believes "Big O" has a better than ever chance to score the 626 points he needs to break the all-time major college record of 2,587.

He's dunked 1,962 points in his first two years of varsity play to set a NCAA record for that much play.

As for Oscar's chances in pro basketball after he graduates, Smith brushed aside a suggestion that his star might be too slight for the big boys.

"They may punish him, but he can deal it out and take it, too," Smith said. "He is much stronger than he looks, and he is tireless.

"He might just make some of those big guys wilt after they chase him for a while."

Smith said Robertson is a hard man on basketball shoes.

"He wears out between 6 and 8 pairs each season," he told a reporter. "That boy really runs."

The coach said he will have a fine team again this year but will lose some games. He said Bradley, St. Louis, Wichita and perhaps Houston will cause the Bearcats trouble in the Missouri Valley.

Smith's teams have won 51 out of their last 58 games. The Bearcats open next Tuesday against Indiana State.

Syracuse's Sizeable 7 Surprised, Happy With Top Linemen Selection

Syracuse, N.Y. (AP) — Syracuse's sizeable 7 expressed surprise and then glee Wednesday at being chosen Associated Press' "linemen" of the week for their work against Boston University.

"Terrific, this is a real surprise and wonderful feeling," shouted Maury Youmans, the 6-6, 226-pound senior tackle from suburban North Syracuse.

"Something I never thought would happen, it feels pretty good," smiled Al Bemiller, 6-4 center from Lancaster, Pa., who wants to be a mortician when he finishes football.

This rough-tough line, helped by a second unit almost as good, tossed Boston backs for a minus 88 yards rushing Saturday as No. 1 Syracuse rolled to its 9th victory, 46-0. So the AP took the unusual step of citing all 7.

"Just fine," came from coach Ben Schwartzwalder. "This is a good bunch, certainly the finest line we've had here. They know football is a contact sport."

The Boston performance was nothing strange for Syracuse, the nation's top defensive as well as offensive team. Nine foes have gained only 206 yards on 271 tries at the line. That averages to three quarters of a yard per carry.

Besides Youmans and Bemiller, the 7 include ends Fred Mautino of Reading, Pa., and Gerry Skonieczki of Binghamton, N.Y.; tackle Bob Yates of Montpelier, Vt.; and Guards Roger Davis of Solon, Ohio, and Bruce Tarbox of Sparkill, N.Y.

The sizeable 7 average 6-3 and 216 pounds.

Army-Navy Treat Means No Jackets

Philadelphia (AP)—A group of 12-year-old football players are giving up spanking new jackets to treat 33 Texas youngster to the Army-Navy game here Saturday.

The generous boys are from suburban Willow Grove, Hatboro and Horsham. They invited the lads from Houston here to play a Pop Warner football conference bowl game.

The Willow Grove boys and their parents have been working to raise $1,200 expenses of the game. Everything was coming along fine. It appeared there would be enough money left over for new green and white jackets the boys had their hearts set on.

But then, one of the Houston youngsters wrote, "Gee, I'd like to see the Army-Navy game while I'm up there. I'll never get the chance again."

Inasmuch as the Texas team had to raise $6,000 for the trip, they couldn't afford any extra expense. The Willow Grove team decided to treat for the Army-Navy game at the cost of their jackets.

Johnny Bright Canada's Best

Toronto (AP)—Johnny Bright, 220-pound fullback with the Edmonton Eskimos, Wednesday night was named the outstanding football player in Canada. The former Drake University star was selected by sports writers and broadcasters in the Big 4 and Western Interprovincial Football Union cities.

Bright, the 4th Edmonton player to win the award since it was started in 1953, beat out quarterback Bernie Faloney of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who came to Canada in 1954 from the University of Maryland.

Roger Nelson, 27-year-old tackle with the Eskimos and formerly of Oklahoma, won the award as the outstanding lineman.

49ers Lose Fill-In QB Jack Kemp

Washington (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers lost a quarterback Wednesday almost as soon as they signed him when Jack Kemp was declared ineligible.

With Y. A. Tittle hurt, the ruling means John Brodie will pilot the 49ers against the Browns at Cleveland this Sunday with ex-half-back Dick Moegle in reserve.

Kemp, former Occidental College quarterback who played for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Calgary Stampeders, was signed after the emergency created by Tittle's injury.

The 49ers learned Wednesday that National Football League regulations bar Kemp for the remainer of the year because he played in an exhibition game for Calgary early in the season.

Moegle, shifted to offense this fall after 4 years as a defensive back, has yet to get a grade — let alone pass a test — as quarterback. But coach Red Hickey figures he's the best prospect to back up Brodie.

Brodie, former Stanford star, divided the quarterbacking with Tittle last year, when he led the league in completion percentage with a 59.9 mark. He's been used seldom this year, throwing fewer than 25 passes.

Villanova Will Start Screening

Villanova, Pa. (AP) — Villanova University announced its athleic board will meet within the next week to screen applications for a new football coach.

The board reports it has received in the vicinity of 10 applications, none of them big names.

The head coaching post was vacated by Frank Reagan during the current season after his team lost the first 4 games.

Army Favored, Cadets Choice

By Will Grimsley
AP Sports Writer

If there's anything golfers claim to know more about than golf, it's football. So after a careful study of the golfer's likes and dislikes during the Canada Cup matches, here we go again.

Army 21, Navy 14—when the Army is favored in this classic, it usually is smart to pick the Midshipmen. We go against the usual form reversal and choose the Cadets on Bob Anderson's speed and Joe Caldwell's rifle passing arm.

Notre Dame 18, Southern California 14—the week's blue ribbon upset special.

Texas 14, Texas A&M 0—the Longhorns won't miss a chance to get that Cotton Bowl spot opposite powerful Syracuse

Texas Christian 14, Southern Methodist 7 - The Mustangs are so groggy by this time they can't put up much fight.

Auburn 20, Alabama 0 — the deep South head-knocker which might well wind up in a brawl. The Plainsmen are too powerful.

Georgia Tech 13, Georgia 7 —Bobby Dodd cooks up some magic of his own to knock over the Southeastern champs.

UCLA 25, Utah 6 — The Californians have their second wind and warm-up on this one while awaiting Syracuse Dec. 5.

Boston College 19, Holy Cross 12—Mayhem New England style with BC's fingernails a bit sharper.

Penn 14, Cornell 7 — and Steve Sebo finally has an Ivy title.

Eager Colts In Big Lead Offensively

Philadelphia (AP)—The Baltimore Colts, hot after another National Football League championship, have comfortable leads in total offense, yards gained passing and scoring.

The Colts gained 439 yards last week in a showdown victory over San Francisco to boost their total offense to 3,385, league statistics show.

That's 218 yards better than second-place Los Angeles, with 3,167. The Rams lost the lead to the defending champs last week by a 49-yard margin.

The Colts, in tying the 49ers for the Western Division title, boosted their passing total to 2,186, with quarterback Johnny Unitas leading the way.

Philadelphia moved past New York, the Eastern Division leader, into second place with 1,864 yards. The Giants have 1,762 for 3rd place.

Cleveland, despite its loss to Pittsburgh, gained 387 yards for a total offense of 3,148 to remain in 3rd place, only 19 yards behind the Rams.

Cleveland and Washington are fighting for the ground gaining lead, with only 3 yards separating them. Cleveland has 1,561 and Washington, 1,558.

EXCHANGE DRAFTS

Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers and Los Angeles Chargers of the new American Football League have exchanged draft rights for Dick Bass of College of Pacific and Charles Milstead of Texas A&M.

Disney Has Big Plan For Squaw Valley

Hollywood (AP) — Walt Disney, who needs no introduction as a master of entertainment spectacles, has big plans for the 1960 winter Olympic Games at Squaw Valley.

Disney, pageantry chairman for the games, outlined the plans Wednesday. Some 5,000 persons, including nearly 800 athletes from 34 countries, will participate in the opening day ceremony Feb. 18 and the closing day Feb. 28.

There will be a choir of 2,645 voices, 1,300 musicians from 52 California and Nevada high schools, plus the big U.S. Marine Corps band from Washington, D.C.

Twenty thousand balloons and 2,000 "doves of peace," actually pigeons, will be released, and the flags of the competing nations will be rocketed into the sky and parachuted to the earth.

Then there will be the traditional Olympic torch, this time carried down the slopes from Papoose Mountain to the ceremonial area by a 1956 Gold Medal ski winner, Andrea Mead Lawrence.

Trojans To Wear Cellophane Bags

Los Angeles (AP) — The Southern California Trojans may crinkle a bit when they run against Notre Dame at South Bend Saturday.

The Trojans, accustomed to warm weather and sure they won't find any in Indiana, will wear cellophane bags on their feet.

They'll put one pair of these bags on first, then a pair of socks, then another bag, then another pair of socks. The object: insulation.

They'll also use electric handwarmers.

A 40-man USC team will fly to Indiana today. The Trojans haven't won a game at South Bend since 1939.

State College Corral:

Wrestling In Second Year At Chadron St.

By Paul LeBar

Intercollegiate wrestling is on the agenda at Chadron State for the second winter.

Eagle Coach Harry Simonton has a squad of 17 including 5 returnees.

Chadron will be represented at the AAU wrestle-fest at the University of Nebraska Saturday.

Nine other meets are on the agenda.

Early reports indicate Wayne and Peru will battle for the championship in Nebraska College Conference basketball.

Wayne, 3rd-place finisher, has 7 letter winners returning including Bob Moore.

Peru, defending champ has lost Jon Appleget and Bruce Smith but retains Bob Mayo, Chuck Francis, Jack Johnson, Chick Stessman and Mike Roach.

McCook and Fairbury divided 5-JC Conference laurels a year ago. They may have trouble repeating.

Most Nebraska colleges begin cage firing Dec. 1.

Wayne opens Nov. 30 against Winona State of Minnesota . . . Nebraska Wesleyan hosts the same opponent the next evening.

Wayne and Wesleyan both host holiday tournaments Dec. 29-30.

Peru will appear in the NAIA tip-off tourney at Nashville, Tenn. Dec. 17-18-19.

New College cage coaches this winter include Allen Svenningsen of Wayne, Gene Else of Doane and Shelby Edwards of Scottsbluff Junior College.

Kearney's team of 10 veterans will continue an all-road schedule this year.

The Antelopes, awaiting a new gymnasium, play at Axtell, Minden, Bertrand, Ainsworth and Ord instead of on the campus.

McCook, northern division winner in the Empire Conference last winter, hosts that loop's pre-season tournament in the McCook High School gym Dec. 4.

Entries are McCook, Scottsbluff, Northeastern of Sterling, Colo. and Otero of La-Junta, Colo.

The tourney's a one-day affair starting at 12:30 p.m.

McCook's Bill Loehr and Royce Hamala, Sunday Journal and Star all-5-JC selections, have been elected to the Wigwam Wisemen of America's team.

They'll join other junior college standouts in an East-West all-star contest at Albuquerque, N. Mex. Dec. 12.

Final football statistics at Concordia reveal that senior quarterback John Suhr completed 67 of 130 aerials for a .515 percentage and 707 yards over the campaign.

Hastings' Ron Barry, junior halfback from Grant, gained 734 yards on the ground in 121 carries. That's an average of 6.9.

Barry's failure to make the NAIA's top 10 list, Hastings Tribune Sports Editor Robb Madgett reports, was due to an oversight on the Bronco campus.

Mat Champs Spice Line-Up In Tournament

Three national AAU champions will ply their wares in the University of Nebraska's first invitational wrestling tourney Saturday.

Recognized mat kings are Terry McCann, NCAA 115-pound titlist for Iowa University and Tulsa, Okla.; Bill Weick, two-time NCAA champion, and Newt Copple of Lincoln, 7 times the ruler at 147 pounds.

Eight midlands schools are expected to be represented for the one-day affair at the coliseum. First matches commence at 9 a.m.

Don Brand, who finished 4th in the NCAA trials while at Nebraska, will vie in the heavyweight division.

The Olympic "black mark" scoring system will be employed. It rules out the possibility of a contestant being eliminated after one match.

Wrestlers with fewest black marks will be class winners. Individual class trophies will be awarded.

New Crete Head Has Four Back

Crete — New Crete basketball coach Wally McNaught, successful at Harvard in recent years, has only 4 lettermen returning from last year's good squad.

The returnees are 6-3 Rich Pomajzl, 5-10 Ron Douglas, 5-11 Don Zeiss, and 6-1 Willie Ahlschwede, all seniors.

Several other 6-footers should give the squad plenty of height.

Dec. 5—at Wahoo; 11—Nebraska City; 18—at Columbus.
Jan. 5—at Fairbury; 9—Falls City; 15—at York; 16 Plattsmouth; 22—Hebron; 29—at Beatrice; 30—Aurora.
Feb. 5—Schuyler; 6—at Uni High; 12—at Geneva; 16—Tecumseh; 19—at Seward; 26—at Bellevue.

Hohn Returns To Orangemen

Beatrice — Bob Hohn, an all-state performer, is the only starting member of last year's state Class A championship team at Beatrice.

Coach Darrel Genzlinger has one other letterman back in Ray Goodenough.

Beatrice rolled to an 18-3 season mark.

Dec. 4—at Southeast; 11—at Grand Island; 18—Seward; 22—Marysville, Kan. Jan. 2—at Fremont; 8—at Falls City; 16—Westside; 22—at Pius X; 26—Plattsmouth; 29—Crete.
Feb. 6—at North Platte; 12—at Northeast; 19—York; 20—Hastings; 23—Fairbury; 26—at Nebraska City.

Concordia Letters Are Issued To 22

Lincoln Star Special

Seward — Seniors Ron Hennig, John Morhardt, Gary Steinmiller and John Suhr are among 22 letter winners at Concordia Teachers College this fall.

Coach Ralph Starenko's Bulldogs won 3 of 9 contests and finished 8th in the Nebraska College Conference.

Other numeral winners:

John Boll, Mel Bremer, Roger Duerr, Myron Heny, Craig Hoffman, Lloyd Holsten, Ron McCarthy, Darrell Matthews, Bill Middlestadt, Norm Miller, Larry Oetting, Paul Puckett, Phil Schuster, Andy Smith, Larry Tewes, Dan Walther, Dick Winch and Glen Zobel.

182,699 Watch Nebraska Play

The home attendance at the University of Nebraska home games this past season was 182,699, Business Manager A. J. Lewandowski announced. This total accrued from 6 games.

It is the second highest attendance in Nebraska history, the record being 197,517 in 1956. This also was attained in a 6-game home schedule.

No Festive Mood In Detroit Corner

Detroit (AP) — The Detroit Lions are in no holiday mood as they prepare to face the Green Bay Packers on Thanksgiving Day.

They are grumbling among themselves about the team's shabby 2-6-1 record. Coaches are complaining that the quarterbacks have done a lousy job, and a couple of the quarterbacks wouldn't mind a bit if the front office traded them away.

Coach George Wilson used all 3 quarterbacks — Earl Morrall, Tobin Rote and Jerry Reichow — last week in the 24-14 loss to the Chicago Bears.

Players were so confused by the difference in cadences that the Lions drew a flock of penalties for offside and illegal motion or procedure.

The Packers, meeting the Lions for the 9th time in the holiday series and the 53rd time since the rivalry began in 1934, don't have troubles like that. They are happy that they have a 4-5 record.

After all, that's something like finding a gold mine after spending your life in the coal fields. The Packers were 1-10-1 last season before coach Vince Lombardi came to town with his miracle workings.

So the Thanksgiving Day contest (11 a.m. CST), which will be seen by some 50,000 is nothing more than a prestige battle.

KRAMER EXPECTS OLMEDO TO SIGN CONTRACT SOON

Los Angeles (AP) — Tennis promoter Jack Kramer said Wednesday he expects to sign Alex Olmedo to a professional contract within the next few days.

The young amateur from Peru won't get anything like the $100,000 figure that has been rumored, Kramer said.

"Olmedo's attorney has the contract now," Kramer said. "I gave it to him yesterday. It takes a few days to settle all the legal things.

"If everything works out as we expect, Olmedo will start his pro career in Melbourne, in a tournament starting the day after Christmas.

"Then he would join the big 4 commencing in America Jan. 29.

"We like these kids to get a little experience against professional competition in advance. That's why we'd like to get him in the Melbourne tournament."

"We feel we don't have to offer so much in the way of guarantees any more," Kramer said.

"What we are offering is the assurance of a long-range program. He can play 6 to 8 months a year for the next 12 years.

Lonely Lion Can't Find Friendly Home

Oklahoma City (AP) — It appears George the Playful Lion may become Lonesome George. Nobody wants him.

He was booted out of city jail here and lodged at Lincoln Park zoo. But zoo director Dr. Warren Thomas said he would like to turn George over to Tulsa's Mohawk Zoo.

And it seems Tulsa is not overly eager to accept the ex-jailbird.

George, a 70-pounder full of vigor, was the property of Ted Moore of Oklahoma City but grew too big and jolly.

Zoo To Jail

Moore took his 9-month-old pet to the city jail removed him to the zoo. Some 45 occupants of a nearby "drunk tank" heaved a sigh of relief when Gerge romped out of his cell.

When the Lincoln Zoo gates opened Moore was there with George.

Thomas said the Tulsa zoo probably could use George. "They have two lions there that are getting pretty old."

A Tulsa zoo official said there was room for a lion at the Mohawk Zoo and that he'd like to have him. However, the park board, which has authority to accept zoo donations, reportedly frowned on George.

Added the Oklahoma City zoo director:

"We have a nice zoo out here." The implication was that he wanted it kept that way.

George was first taken over by the Lincoln Zoo two weeks ago when a woman called pleading for someone to take charge of her pet. Then an animal dealer bought the lion and later sold him to Moore.

Hundreds At Union Services Offer Thanksgiving Prayers

Hundreds of Lincolnites gathered in prayers of Thanksgiving at union services, sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Churches, Wednesday night.

"We must cultivate the spirit of being grateful for things as they are received," the Rev. Carl Burkhardt Jr. told worshippers at the Second Baptist Church union services.

He pointed out in his topic, "Learning How to Receive," that it is "not enough to just pause occasionally and try to think of things for which to be thankful.

"The only way in which we can fittingly or adequately express thanks to God is through the gift that we give to others in His behalf," he added.

The Rev. Ralph Belknap, pastor of Belmont Baptist Church, spoke on the "Lost Commandment" at services at Lincoln Heights Methodist Church.

'Lost' Commandment

"'Thou shalt not covet' is the lost commandment for the American people. Our plight is well defined by the criteria we use for measuring success," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Belknap added, "Jesus said, 'a man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions,' but we have twisted this, if not in the Bible, at least in practice, to 'a man's life does consist in the abundance of his possessions.'"

Dr. G. T. Savery, pastor of Trinity Chapel at Rokeby, referred to the "Unending Promise," at the southwest community service held at Southminster United Brethren Church.

"'While the earthly remains seek time and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night shall not cease.'"

Dr. Savery pointed out, "In a day when so many have a feeling of insecurity, a good reason for Thanksgiving is our belief in the integrity of God and His promises which are not anon written in the Bible, but in the very fabric of the universe."

"True Thanksgiving," was the topic of the sermon given by Chaplain Jan Walker of Lincoln Air Force Base at services at Havelock Christian Church.

"We dare not miss the uniqueness of the preciousness of the gift of knowledge. We do not give thanks in fear and anxiety as the pagans, but instead, we turn to the God and Father and our Lord Jesus Christ to offer our gifts of thanksgiving," Chaplain Walker said.

Merle Beattie School Raided By Burglars

Merle Beattie School at 1901 Calvert was burglarized and several keys to the building were reported stolen, police said Wednesday.

An office cabinet also was pried open but the intruders apparently overlooked money kept there. Police believe juveniles are responsible for the incident.

Underground Tests Set

London (UPI)—The atomic energy authority announced plans to detonate "conventional" explosives in a disused lead mine in northern England to help study methods of detecting underground nuclear blasts. spokesman said the tests would begin "soon."

Russian Tour Party In G.I.

Grand Island (AP) — Russian tour party of 22 persons arrived in Grand Island Wednesday.

Accompanying the group as interpreter was Van N. Mantulin of New York, tour manager for the American Express Co.

The visitors took a tour conducted by Robert Mettenbrink of Grand Island, president of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Assn.

A similar tour was taken a month ago by another Russian group.

The Russians earlier visited New York City, Washington, Chicago and Des Moines.

RE-HEARING ASKED IN BURGLARY CASE

Attorneys for George Smith, a burglarly defendant, asked the State Supreme Court Wednesday for a re-hearing of an appeal from Keith County District Court.

The high court ruled on the case Nov. 6, affirming Smith's conviction on one count of burglary but reversing the district court on 4 other counts on which he also had been sentenced.

Smith's attorneys Wednesday filed a formal motion for a re-hearing and asked that they be allowed to present oral arguments on the motion.

Nebraska Woman Making Recovery

Tonopah, Nev. (AP) — Mrs. Milton Murphy of North Platte is recovering in a Tonopah hospital from injuries suffered when her car struck a horse two miles south of Tonopah Nov. 16.

Mrs. Murphy was thrown from the car. She suffered cuts, bruises and brush burns over most of her body.

Her son, Edward Palmer Murphy, escaped with minor injuries.

The car was demolished and the horse killed.

At certain times of the year we're reminded how well off we are — as Americans. The most heartfelt thanks of all often comes from the head of the table — especially these days when being a family provider is no light responsibility. For past blessings, it is a time for gratitude. For the future, a time for high hopes and careful planning that might well include a talk with your Massachusetts Mutual man.

Weaver's Charge Will Bring Probe

Nebraskan Claims Americans Must Hire Guards To Protect Family And Property

Washington (UPI) — Chairman George Mahon said Wednesday his House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee will look into charges that the Philippines government is harassing U.S. troops and permitting large-scale looting of U.S. property.

The charges were leveled by Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb), a member of Mahon's subcommittee who recently returned from the Philippines. Weaver accused the State Department of closing its eyes to the situation and urged that U.S. troops be shifted to Thailand.

Weaver made his charges in a report to Mahon, a Texas Democrat. Mahon told United Press International that U.S. Pacific field commanders would be summoned to Washington to testify as demanded by Weaver.

Denies Charges

State Department spokesman Lincoln White described the charges as "completely untrue." While refusing detailed comment, White noted that this country now is engaged in talks with the Philippines on the status of U.S. forces in the islands.

The Defense Department withheld immediate comment. However, state and defense officials said privately that Weaver had exaggerated the well-known problem of theft in the Philippines. They said wealthy Filipinoes and foreigners both are fair game for thieves there.

The Philippine charged d'affaires here, Mauro Kalingo, said charges of graft and corruption were a key issue in the recent Philippine elections and the results were a decisive vote of confidence in the government.

Weaver, discussing his experiences, said any American living on a U.S. base in the Philippines "must hire armed guards to patrol his home or property will be looted and his family molested or murdered."

The lawmaker said the State Department had not told Americans "about the true conditions because some fear treading on the toes of a friendly government. The truth is that the (Philippine) government is not friendly."

In New York, Eddie Martelino, press attache of the Philippine Embassy, branded Weaver's charges "the wildest and most ridiculous ever to come from an American visitor to the Philippines."

Agri-Business Importance Emphasized

Interdependence Of Rural, Urban People Told By Olson

Income from Nebraska crops and livestock produced on farms and ranches is "big business no matter how you look at it," according to Fred Olson, extension farm economist at the Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Such Nebraska income totals $1.2 billion, he said.

"The important fact to consider is that $901,700,000 is paid by farmers to industries in the state that service agriculture," Olson said. "The farms and industries associated with agricultural production constitute 'agri-business.' These firms furnish farm supplies and market farm produce."

He said the growing importance of agri-business is particularly significant during farm-city week, Nov. 20-26, which focuses attention on the interdependence of rural and urban people.

In addition to supplementing income for various service industries to agriculture, the farm portion of income receivers in Nebraska totals 141,400—nearly one fourth of the total income receivers in the state. This includes farmers, farm foremen, farm laborers, and unpaid family farm workers.

As far as personal income is concerned, the returns to farm operators and farm laborers totals $581,000,000 — less than a fourth of all personal income in Nebraska, Olson said.

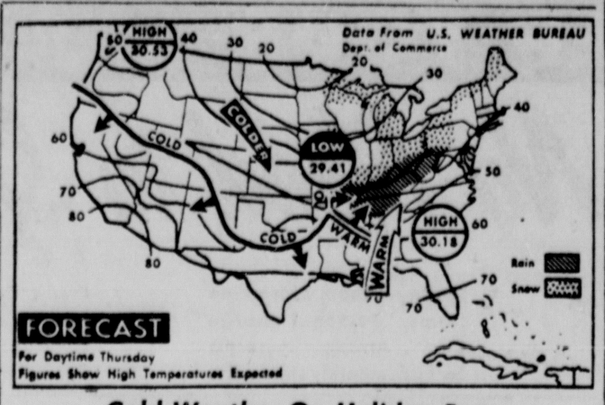
He added that this high amount of agricultural production and contributing income to the state is being produced by fewer and fewer farmers. This has and is continuing to be made possible by a technological revolution in agricultural production.

For example, Olson said, in 1820 each farm worker supported 4.1 other persons. Today each farm worker provides the food and fiber for 23.5 other persons.

As a result of this revolution, Olson said, more and more of Nebraska's manpower is available to produce and distribute non-food and fiber items such as cars, houses, tractors and thousands of other items.

There is still another contribution rural Nebraska makes to urban living, Olson added. That is that nearly half of the state's rural children move to cities for their life's vocation.

These children take with them a farm investment in rearing and educating which frequently exceeds $20,000 per person, Olson said.



Cold Weather On Holiday Fare

There may be some snow flurries on Thanksgiving Day in the Great Lakes region and northern New England. Light snow mixed with rain is expected over the middle Mississippi Valley while it will rain over the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys. It will be colder over the Great Lakes, the northern Atlantic states, the upper and middle Mississippi Valley, the Plains and the Great Basin states. It will be warmer over the east Gulf Coast and Tennessee Valley. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Frontier Airlines Protest Meet Set Friday At Chadron

Chadron (AP) — President Monroe Bixler of the Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce is inviting all interested members to be represented Friday at a meeting here to protest Frontier Airline's decision to discontinue its northern Nebraska route.

Bixler said representatives from Alliance, Scottsbluff, Chadron, Crawford, Gordon, Rushville, Hay Springs, Valentine, Harrison, Norfolk, O'Neill, Columbus, Lincoln and Omaha would be welcome at the meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. at the City Hall.

Jack Obbink, state director of aeronautics, and Rush Clarke of North Platte, special attorney for the aeronautics department, will be present to lead the discussion, Bixler said.

Osmond School Issue Goes On Special Ballot

Osmond (UPI)—School district 42R voters will decide Dec. 17 on a proposed $452,000 bond issue for a new school.

The district includes Osmond and 13 districts which have merged with it.

The new construction will provide 7 high school rooms, 9 grade school rooms, a shop and classrooms for the vocational agriculture department.

Equipment for the school is included in the bond issue.

The plant will also include a gymnasium and a multipurpose room which will serve as an auditorium and a hot luncheon dining room.

Lancaster Co. Farm Census 70% Complete

Waverly — The Lancaster County farm census is "about 70%" completed, according to Jerome Warner of Waverly, county census crew leader.

Warner reported that the 16 enumerators have visited more than 1,600 of the county's 2,400 farms.

The census, which began two weeks ago, is expected to be completed by mid-December, Warner said.

The project may take a "little longer" to complete than expected, Warner noted, because many farmers are still in the fields picking corn. Cooperation has been "real fine," Warner said.

He urged farmers who have not yet filled out questionnaires mailed them earlier to try to do so as soon as possible.

The 16 enumerators assist in filling out the questionnaires which record the size of farms, yields and acreage in various crops, livestock count and other information.

The farm census is conducted every 5 years by the Census Bureau.

Turkish College President Tours York Alfalfa Mills

York (UPI) — The president of Ataturk University, Dr. Sabahattin Ozbek, Erzurum, Turkey, visited here this week.

After a visit to the York Alfalfa Mills the Turkish college president was outlining the possibility of setting up such a plant in eastern Turkey to take care of the feed crop in that area.

Dr. Ozbek inquired into the plant's cost and labor required — particularly the training necessary to operate such a plant.

Fast Interstate Route Through Omaha-Bluffs Metropolitan Area May Become Reality '63

Omaha (AP) — As winter of 1959 closes in on Omaha the controversial Interstate Highway with its complex of exits and accesses still plucks only at the fringes of the city.

For the traveler looking toward a fast Interstate route through the Omaha-Council Bluffs metropolitan area, prospects are such a route won't be a reality until at least 1963, tentative date for completion of a new downtown bridge across the Missouri River.

On the Iowa side of the Missouri, Interstate 29 now comes down to the edge of Council Bluffs and is connected with Broadway, the main route to the river, by two access roads. The motorist will use Broadway to pass through the heart of Council Bluffs, but when the bridge is built, there will be temporary access routes built to feed the through traffic to the new bridge.

Until that time, however, the route through Council Bluffs will remain as it is with nothing beyond the present Broadway route for a main artery to the river.

On the Nebraska side of the river construction is pushing slowly northeastward to this proposed crossing.

From the interchange at 114th and L streets just east of Millard, southwest of the city, construction is under way all the way north to Dodge Street, which carries U.S. Highway 6 traffic, a distance of more than 4 miles.

A contract has been let for earthwork between 90th and 72nd streets. East from 72nd street to the site of the 31st and Grover interchange, no actual construction work has started, but land is being acquired for right-of-way and planning is in the final stages.

This route will pass about a mile north of the Omaha Stockyards and then swing northward to connect with another big interchange at 28th and Dodge Streets, near the present Sears Roebuck Building.

Benson And Flemming Will Have Cranberries

. . . NO WORD YET FROM WHITE HOUSE

From Press Dispatches

Washington — At least two cabinet members, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, are having cranberries for Thanksgiving dinner Thursday.

There was no immediate word from the White House as to what the menu there will be.

But if the situation in Washington is anywhere near typical, it looks as if the cranberry industry won't have much to be thankful for. A lot of people evidently will be passing up cranberries instead of passing them around the table.

Flemming announced just two and a half weeks before Thanksgiving that some of the cranberry supply has been tainted by a weed killer that produces cancer in mice.

Mrs. Flemming confirmed that cranberries are on the menu at her house. They reappeared on the Senate restaurant menu Wednesday. They are back on the shelves of U.S. military commissaries in Europe. But U.S. forces in Japan will get no berries for Thanksgiving.

White House press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President and first lady would have a "very private, quiet dinner" in mid-afternoon. He said they will be joined by their son and daughter-in-law and the 4 grandchildren.

Seward Woman Hurt In One-Car Accident

A 44-year-old Seward woman suffered possible fractures of several ribs Wednesday as the result of a one-car accident, according to the Nebraska Highway Patrol.

Patrolmen said Edna L. Daake was westbound on Highway 6 about a mile and a half west of Emerald when her car went out of control, struck a bridge railing and overturned.

Hungary Debate Voted

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly voted Wednesday night for full-scale debate on Hungary despite Communist warnings it would be a dangerous blow to U.S.-Soviet cooperation.

By a vote of 51 to 10 with 15 abstentions the assembly approved a recommendation of its steering committee that the debate be held.

The entire Soviet bloc and Communist Yugoslavia voted against the recommendation. The abstainers included most of the Arab nations and some from the Asian-African group.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge expressed regret that reports of continued trials and executions of Hungarians who took part in the 1956 revolt made it necessary to bring up the issue once more in the United Nations.

Living Costs Hit A Record

. . . IN OCTOBER

Washington (AP) — Living costs edged upward to a new record in October, nicking another 2 cents in buying value from the consumer's $10 bill.

It was the sixth time in 7 months that the living cost level, as measured by the government's consumer price index, has climbed to a new peak.

The Labor Department said higher sales prices for 1960 model autos, along with a 1-cent-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, were responsible for most of the rise of 2-10ths of 1% from September.

However, there were price increases in every buying category except food, which declined 3-10ths of 1%.

The living cost index rose to 125½% of the 1947-49 base period.

This is 1½% higher than a year ago. Figuring a $10 bill at full value in the 1947-49 period, it is now worth $7.97.

Iowa School Bus Driven By Youth Of 17, Overturns

Radcliffe, Iowa (UPI) — A school bus driven by a 17-year-old boy overturned on a new black-topped highway about 1½ miles northeast of here. One of the 44 passengers was seriously injured.

The bus slipped off the shoulderless new road, overturned and rolled down a 6-foot embankment.

Radcliffe School Supt. W. Hubert Johnson said Roger Berndt, 14, Alden, was hospitalized at Iowa Falls with a fractured pelvis. He said two other youths were held for observation, but the other 42 "are back in school."

The bus was driven by Richard Berndt, 17, a senior at the school, and brother of the injured boy. Johnson said Berndt was driving in place of the regular driver.

Firm Sues City For Constructing Harris Overpass

A Lincoln firm which claims the value of its building was lessened by construction of the Harris Overpass filed a $30,000 damage suit Wednesday against the City of Lincoln.

G. F. Lessenhop & Sons Inc. allege in a petition filed in Lancaster District Court that their 3-story building at 735 O formerly was worth $67,500. But they allege that construction of the overpass has resulted in the building, which has 18,500 square feet of floor space, being worth only $37,500 now.

The firm attributes the alleged decrease in valuation to "difficulty of access" to the building caused by extension of the overpass.

Castro Draws 30 Year Term (In Absentia)

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic (AP) — A Dominican court has sentenced Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to 30 years at hard labor because of an attempted invasion of this country last June. Castro is not in the Dominican Republic and the court proceedings were held in absentia.

A similar sentence was given President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela. He isn't here either.

The names of Castro and Betancourt headed a list of 113 persons accused of taking part in the invasion plan.

The only defendants present at the trial were identified as Cuban Maj. Delio Gomez Ochoa and 4 Dominicans. The government says they were among 56 persons who landed at Constanza June 14 in an airplane from Cuba. The others were reported killed.

Conrad Eyes New Orleans

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Max Conrad broke a 10-year distance record for ocean-hopping light planes Wednesday night and flew over Gulf of Mexico waters toward New Orleans, intent on stretching out his new mark.

Conrad already had more than topped the 4,957-mile '49 mark set by the late Bill Odum when he reported his position at 10:22 p.m. as 50 miles west-southwest of Key West, Florida.

The Piper Cub Co., sponsor of Conrad's flight, said that was 5,448 miles from Conrad's takeoff point Tuesday at Casablanca, Morocco, and 491 miles more than Odum's mileage.

Conrad originally planned to land at Miami—which would have given him a record—but at 6:30 p.m. he radioed the Federal Aviation Authority at Miami that his Piper Comanche plane had plenty of gas to make New Orleans and perhaps travel farther. He said he would skip the Florida stop.

If his fuel holds, his sponsors said, he might possibly try to make Houston, Corpus Christi, or even El Paso.

Active Trade Continues On Stock Market

New York (AP) — The stock market continued to churn indecisively Wednesday in an active pre-Thanksgiving Day session.

The market will be closed Thursday for the holiday and some Wall Streeters are making a four-day weekend out of it.

Cross currents of tax-selling, group rotation and profit taking made the market virtually trendless. Prices were up in early trading with industrials advancing moderately but by mid-session it was once again a hodge-podge of plus and minus signs.

The market once again was in the resistance area represented by the general level of 650 or so in the Dow Jones industrials. That average advanced 1.41 to 651.10 despite several component stocks selling ex-dividend, thus dragging at the average.

An assortment of news items, some good, some bad, moved individual stocks. Selling was pretty general near the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 10 cents to $221.70 with the industrials up 10 cents, the rails down 60 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Of 1,227 issues traded, 532 advanced and 472 declined. New highs for the year totaled 26 and new lows 41.

Volume was 3,550,000 shares compared with 3,650,000 Tuesday.

American Stock Exchange prices also were mixed. Volume was 1,520,000 shares compared with 1,590,000 Tuesday.

Government bonds drifted lower.

Trading declined to $6,820,000 par value on the Big Board from $6,890,000 Tuesday.

Grains Finish About Even

Chicago (AP)—The grain futures market raced well ahead, then back and finally finished Wednesday about where it started.

Soybeans, as they have been for some time, again were the broadest swingers. They skipped over a range of more than two cents, about half on the plus side and half on the minus side before closing slightly weak.

Wheat was ahead about a cent at its best but the runup there was short lived, too, although it held small gains at the end.

Other grains shifted generally within small fractions of previous closes in light pre-holiday trading which was limited in volume.

In the futures pit, wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, December $1.99; corn unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.10½-⅝, oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 76¾-⅞; rye ¾ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.33¼; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, January $2.19½-¾.

U.S. Paying Too Much For Phone Service: GAO

Washington —The General Accounting Office says the government is paying possibly a million dollars or more a year too much for telephone service.

In a report to Congress, Comptroller General Joseph Campbell put the blame chiefly on "inefficient administrative practices within the government."

Campbell, who heads the GAO, also criticized the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., which handles practically all government telephone service.

He said part of the excess costs are incurred because AT&T "has not fully applied the lowest applicable rates" in billing the government for phone service. At the same time, Campbell said, many federal departments and agencies have not recognized that cheaper rates are available.

AT&T, in letters included in Campbell's report, took strong issue with many of the GAO allegations.

The big phone company said it is the responsibility of government agencies themselves to apply for lower rates if they are eligible.

Campbell's report, however, said AT&T is required by law to apply a lower rate automatically whenever a customer is eligible for it. AT&T attorneys said they disagreed with this interpretation.

The GAO, a congressional agency which periodically audits operations of all federal agencies, said most of the excessive costs were incurred by the Defense Department, chiefly the Air Force.

Altogether, the GAO figured these costs at $1,215,770 a year.

In addition to what it termed inefficient administrative practices within the government, the GAO blamed the excess costs on "erroneous application of multiple channel rates."

Multiple channel rates are lower than regular rates and are applicable when a customer orders more than 3 circuits between the same two points.

Under rate schedules established by the Federal Communications Commission the discount for multiple channels ranges from 2½ to 28%, depending on the number of channels used. It was in this area that the report accused AT&T of not fully applying the lowest applicable rate.

Morrison Talks To Omahans Who Oppose Interstate Route

Lincoln attorney Frank B. Morrison, Democratic candidate for governor, was revealed Wednesday to have been in conference with an Omaha group which opposes the controversial Interstate Route 3 through downtown Omaha.

The announcement was made by Morrison's state campaign manager, J. J. Exon of Lincoln, who said Morrison will address the group, the Omaha Taxpayers Plan, in Omaha Monday night and outline his position on the subject.

Exon said that Ralph Bremers of Omaha, attorney for the group, has informed him that the proposed project will cost "in excess of $100 million and will lead to serious economic, social and educational dislocations in the city."

Exon also said Bremers had "indicated that pressure from (the governor's) administrative assistant, Mr. Conrad, and the governor's office to proceed with multi-million dollar land and building acquisition was going to be met with appropriate preventive legal action."

Morrison is "definitely opposed to the gigantic Omaha power grab of Interstate funds for the improvement of the downtown Omaha section," Exon said.

Brandt Says Reds Stopped In Berlin

Berlin (UPI) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said in a speech that his city had successfully defended itself against the Soviet campaign, launched two days short of one year ago, to isolate it from the West.

It was on Nov. 27, 1958, that Nikita Khrushchev first demanded that West Berlin be made a "free demilitarized city."
